Emergency Relief Measure
Would Place $1,500,000 at Disposal of Commission.

PRODUCED BY TOLEDOAN

Senate Finance Committee
Passes $92,739,968 Biennial Expense Proposal.

The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 4.—The Ohio legislature moved a little farther today in solution of two major problems—carrying for $60,000,000 in 17 counties and preparation of a new biennial budget.

Legislative leaders worked for hours on an emergency measure to place a $1,500,000 appropriation at the disposal of a four-member relief commission.

The senate finance committee recommended passage of a $92,739,968 biennial budget bill. It carried $55,201,100 for the biennium and provided $37,538,868 in a clause providing for the highway department all funds so earmarked.

Introduced by Carver
Rep. John Q. Carver, Democrat
Lucas, introduced the relief measure as a temporary expedient.

The senate finance committee's budget bill is nearly $4,000,000 greater than the $38,871,960 budget approved by Gov. Davey. It reduces, however, nearly $4,000,000 under the original budget bill.

Gov. Davey awarded the license bill. The house corrected in minor senate amendments and the bill needed only the signatures of the presiding officers of the two houses and of the governor to become law.

WO ARMY AIRMEN DIE IN PLANE CRASH

Major and Lieutenant Killed
as Craft Dives to Earth on Washington Field.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Two army airmen died today in a plane crash on Washington field.

The dead were named by the War Department as First Lieut. Larry H. Coffey of St. Paul, Minn., and Maj. George E. Rice of Minneapolis, Minn.

Officials of Bolling field said the plane was making a slight turn at the time of the crash and that the crash evidently plowed into the field preparatory to landing.

The field adjutant said the bodies were badly mutilated.

A board of officers immediately was summoned to investigate.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS TO GO ON TONIGHT

Business District To Have Own Appearance For Holidays.

Christmas light decorations across downtown streets were to be turned on tonight, according to officials of the C. D. & M. Electric Co.

Work of hanging the fifty strings of lights from the electric standards was completed this morning and workmen from the C. D. & M. connected the lights to power lines.

Electricity for the lights, which are owned by Marion merchants, is to be donated by the electric company. Work of erecting the lights and placing the green lights is in charge of the Marion Retail Merchants' Bureau.

City Plans Elaborate Three-Day Program To Launch Old Fort Mills As New Member of Industrial Family

Stage Set Today for the Opening of "Soy Bean Days" Thursday.

The stage was set today for an elaborate three-day program to acquaint residents of the Marion vicinity with every phase of the soy bean industry and to open formally to the public the plant of Marion's newest industrial concern—Old Fort Mills, Inc.

Experts in the use of soy bean products in fields of industry and commerce will speak at programs to be given in The Star auditorium, interesting exhibits showing the wide range of uses for soy bean products will be shown, Old Fort Mills will open its plant for public inspection, and merchants throughout the city will cooperate by displaying special show window exhibits.

Doxens of prominent railroad officials are expected to join thousands of persons in Marion and nearby communities in attending the series of programs arranged by a special "Soy Bean Days" committee, headed by Harry R. Margworth. In these programs, interesting stories of the oldest farm crop of which there is a written record, its products used in a hundred different ways, will be told.

Program Starts Tomorrow.
The program will get under way Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in The Star auditorium when R. H. Sheppard, general manager of a Cleveland paint company, will speak.

Thursday night at 7:30, Dr. Edsel A. Ruddenman, head of the research department of the Ford Motor Co. of Detroit, will give an address at The Star auditorium. John H. Clark will act as chairman and the Harding High school band will furnish music. Dr. Ruddenman will speak on "Soy Beans, Their Growth and Products Manufactured From Them."

Paul Gerlaugh, chief of the animal husbandry department of the Ohio agricultural experiment station at Wooster, is to speak Friday at 10 a. m. in The Star auditorium. Dr. Ruddenman also is expected to speak briefly at this program.

Saturday activities will center around the making of awards Saturday morning in the auditorium in a $100 cash prize soy bean exhibit contest. Each exhibitor will be required to display one peck of soy beans.

Exhibits to Feature
Throughout the three-day program, the most elaborate ever given in Marion to introduce a new industrial concern to residents of the Marion district, visitors will be welcomed at The Star auditorium and at the plant of Old Fort Mills.

A soy bean exhibit that was a feature at the Chicago World's fair will be shown in the auditorium throughout the program. The exhibit has been brought here from the University of Illinois.

At the plant, visitors will learn how soy beans are received, graded, weighed and put through a process that converts them into two valuable commercial products—soy bean oil and soy bean meal.

A number of Marion store windows have been given over to soy bean displays, most of them being put in place today. Carl J. Watrous, chairman of the window display committee, has asked that all store exhibits be completed not later than tonight.

Marion Kiwanians tomorrow will hear P. Turner, president of Old Fort Mills, speak on soy beans. Seventeen newspaper publishers and a number of central Ohio operators of radio stations have been invited to attend the meeting.

Auto Show Doors
To Open at 7 P. M.

Five-Day Automobile and Merchandising Display To Get Under Way.

Doors admitting the public to view the new 1936 automobiles will be opened at 7 o'clock tonight at 225 West Center street, the building that houses the five-day Marion Auto show.

In addition to exhibits of 40 new models of 12 makes of cars, there will be 25 displays of various other merchandise by retail merchants and dealers.

The automobile men had completed moving their cars on the display floor at noon today and final "touching up" of the exhibits was in progress this afternoon.

Ample space has been roped off on both display floors for free dancing, which will be a highly entertainment feature. Gene Williams dance orchestra will play for round dancing on one floor, and London's Hawaiians will provide the music for square dancing on the other. Other entertainment features will include concerts by the Eagles lodge band.

Kenneth Fields, manager of the show, said the colored lights on Christmas tree decorations have been tested and that the full lighting scheme will be in operation for the opening night.

With Marion "soy bean days" opening Thursday attendance during the last four days of the show is expected to be doubled. Arrangements have been made, Mr. Fields said to handle the crowds. Starting Thursday the show will be open afternoon and night. The exhibit will close Sunday night.

Officials and the soy bean processing plant of Old Fort Mills, Inc. are shown in the above photographs. At the upper left is P. Turner, president and treasurer, and at the upper right is G. A. Holland, vice president and secretary. Below is pictured the plant, located on North Grand avenue.

"Soy Bean Days" Events Listed

The program was completed today for "soy bean days" to begin Thursday. Today The Star is helping launch the three-day celebration by devoting a large part of its issue to informative articles and advertisements related to soy bean cultivation, processing and marketing.

A summary of highlights of the program, to be given in The Star auditorium, follows:
Thursday—Address at 10:30 a. m. by R. H. Sheppard, Cleveland paint company manager. Address at 7:30 p. m. by Dr. Edsel A. Ruddenman, Detroit motor car company research director and music by Harding High school band.

Friday—Address at 10 a. m. by Paul Gerlaugh of the Ohio agricultural experiment station and remarks by Dr. Ruddenman.

Saturday morning—Awards to be made in $100 soy bean exhibit contest.

THIEF ENTERS HOUSE AND STEALS PURSE

Pocketbook Taken from W. L.
Stump Residence at 315
Linden Place.

Burglars stole a woman's purse from the home of W. L. Stump of 315 Linden place last night about 9:30. While members of the family were upstairs, Miss Isabel Stump discovered the front door standing open and her purse, which had been on a table near the door, missing, when she went downstairs to turn off a radio.

The total loss, valued at approximately $50, included a ring, fountain pen and a small amount of change, all taken from the purse. The discarded purse was found on State street early this morning by Harry Stewart, night watchman at the J. W. Maish Co., when he was returning home from work.

Entrance to the home was thought to have been gained through the front door which was not closed tightly. The purse was returned to Miss Stump through identification cards which were not disturbed.

Bruce Barton Urges Industry To Advertise

Says People Want Better Life
and Will Choose Between Business and Politics.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Picturing business and politics as rivals for the leadership of the American people, Bruce Barton, nationally known sales consultant, urged industry today to choose advertising as its weapon for the contest.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Congress of American Industry in conjunction with a convention of the National Association of Manufacturers, Barton said:

"Fundamentally, the people of the United States think they should have a better life, more comfort, more security, more opportunity, more hope."

To Make Choice
"What they are likely to do is to make a choice between industry and politics."

Shopping Sleuth Finds City's Merchants Prepared To Fill Christmas Gift Lists

BY HALLIE HOUCK
The "Cover the Christmas Front" sleuth slushed through rain and skidded over ice, wore the heels off her oxford down to the leather, lost at least 10 hairpins in dashing hither and thither—but emerged from the melee with a team of paper heavy with pot-boilers which, when transcribed, list a fair share of what Marion merchants have in stock for the Christmas trade.

This year it was more fun than in former years. Things seem to be definitely on the upswing for one thing, what with the merchants confident they're in for a season of buying which will eclipse last year's, more than satisfying gay jangle of cash registers.

More exciting, the season was started last week when stocks were just beginning to appear on display and kind clerks dived into huge boxes, unwrapped miles of packing tissue, shoved yards of sweaters and triumphantly brought forth for private viewing the marvels which are now being brought out for you, and you, and you.

Plant Erected Here To Serve Farmers in Ten Central Ohio Counties

Old Fort Mills, Inc. Marion's newest addition to its variety of industries, brings with it a potential cash market of $400,000 a year for farmers in at least 10 counties in this section of Ohio. Planning to keep their soy bean oil processing equipment in operation 24 hours a day for 11 months of the year, officials of the company estimate they will need half a million bushels of soy beans a year. At an average price of 70 cents a bushel, this demand will require the expenditures of $350,000 a year for beans. Company officials expect to get nearly all of their supply of beans from farms in 10 counties near Marion.

May Double Capacity
If present plans are followed, the capacity of the new plant will be doubled, possibly within a year, with a subsequent increase in demand for soy beans, a crop that has one of the most interesting histories and widest range of commercial uses in the calendar of grains commonly raised in this section.

Soy beans will be converted into soy bean oil and soy bean meal at the processing plant, and the products sold commercially for a variety of uses.

An important element in the success expected for the company is the wide range of experience in the commercial handling of soy beans its officers have had. They are P. Turner, president and treasurer, and G. A. Holland, vice president and secretary.

Mr. Turner has been identified with the feed industry for 15 years. He formerly was general sales manager for Allied Mills, which has plants throughout the eastern half of the United States with headquarters in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Turner live on Delaware avenue.

Mr. Holland formerly was associated with Allied Mills in the capacity of general advertising and sales promotion manager. He also has spent 15 years in the commercial handling of soy beans. He and Mrs. Holland and their two children live at 211 St. James street.

Operations Just Started
The company has just begun operation of its new plant on North Grand avenue. Complete equipment for processing soy beans is housed in a two-story building approximately 100 feet long and 50 feet wide. Storage tanks, located outside the plant structure, include a 50,000 gallon oil storage tank and a 50,000 bushel bean storage bin or tank. The plant is equipped at present.

MERCURY DROPS TO 4 ABOVE ZERO HERE

New Low Mark Set for Season;
Lower Temperatures
Forecast for Tonight.

icy blasts toppled temperature marks to new lows for the season, as residents of Marion and the state felt king winter's grip last night and today.

The lowest temperature of the season for Marion was recorded last night, as the thermometer dropped to four degrees above zero. Lima residents, according to an Associated Press report, found themselves in perhaps the coldest spot in the state with the mercury at two below zero.

Frost-bitten ears, chapped faces, frozen automobile radiators and water pipes and fresh flurries of snow in many portions of the state gave further evidence that winter had moved in for good.

Weathermen forecast lower temperatures for tonight with a slight thermometer rise Thursday, followed by light snow. Marion's high temperature yesterday was 72, as compared to a high of 44 registered a year ago. Last year's low for the same day was 29.

Toledo had the coldest, Dec. 4 on record, six above. It snowed in Cleveland, where a 19-degree mark was reported.

Snow flurries fell in Columbus, which bundled up to ward off a low of 10 and in Cincinnati, which had a low of 17.

WALDO GIRL'S STEER IS BEST

Helen Strine, 15, Exhibits

ANIMAL SELLS FOR $883

Other Marion and Union County Youths Win Awards at Annual Display.

Fifteen-year-old Helen Strine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Strine, of two miles east of Waldo, last night broke the long domination of boy exhibitors of the Cleveland livestock show when her Aberdeen-Angus steer won the grand championship and brought her a check for $883.20. She is the first girl ever to exhibit a grand champion at the Cleveland show.

Helen and the six other Marion county boys and girls at the show are expected home today. Helen with two additional awards, the Belden Seymour trophy for the best steer shown by a girl, and the prize for exhibiting the best steer in the senior calf class.

Joe F. Laird of Prospect won first in the shorthorn junior yearlings, his steer bringing 15 cents a pound from Swift & Co. and Arthur Maule of near Waldo won first in the Hereford junior yearlings, his prize winner going to Earl Gibbs of Cleveland for 15 cents a pound and donated by Gibbs to the Cleveland Christian orphanage. Willard Davidson of Grand Prairie township won second place in the Hereford junior yearlings class and sold his entry to the Lake Erie Poultry Co. for 15 cents a pound.

Helen's sister, Magdalena, placed fifth in the Angus senior calf class and Wesley Gatewood of Cleveland placed fourth. In the junior yearling class, Joe Wright of Cleveland township won the exhibition.

The grand champion, "Brooklyn," bred by M. Birnie and raised by Helen since he was a month old, was bought by the Ohio Poultry Co. acting for Packers, Post-American Legion, Post-Orchard and they believed they would donate their purchase to charity, according to a Cleveland news report.

"Brooklyn," weighing 940 pounds, was sold for 92 cents a pound, a somewhat lower price than that paid for last year's grand champion.

"I don't know what I will do with the money," Helen told The Associated Press. "I haven't even thought of that. I expect I'll go to college and the money will probably be used then. New dresses? I don't believe so."

Prize winning at the livestock show has become almost a habit with the Marion county girl. She entered the show first at the age of 12 and last year her calf won first in the junior yearling class and she was awarded the trophy for the best steer exhibited by a girl.

DETROIT STRIKE RIOT CASUALTIES MOUNT

Two Policemen and Two Pickets Added to List of 21 Hurt
in Series of Disorders.

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, Dec. 4.—Violence broke out anew today at the Motor Products Corp. plant, where 21 persons were injured last night, and two policemen and two strikers were added to the list of casualties.

Carrying out police orders forbidding the formation of picket lines, more than three score policemen drove back 76 strikers who attempted to resume picketing on the plant entrance.

Two policemen were struck by flying bricks. Two strikers were hit by police night-sticks as they retreated to their headquarters, less than a block from the entrance gate to the plant. Neither the police nor the strikers would give the names of their injured.

One striker was taken to a police station for questioning today. Eleven of the strikers were detained last night.

Repulsed by the large police detail, the strikers retreated to the headquarters of the Automotive Industrial Workers association.

The pursuing policemen threw a tear gas bomb to speed the retreat. A striker hurled the bomb back toward the police line.

An hour after today's disorders started, the strikers were congregated in the headquarters, under close police surveillance.

Announcing that picketing of the plant had been forbidden, Police Inspector Irvin Patterson threatened the order to meet again tonight.

DECREASE SEEN IN UNEMPLOYED

5,000,000 Jobless Estimated To Have Obtained Work
Since March of 1933.

10,915,000 STILL JOBLESS

Figures Compiled by Committee Headed by Nathan and Used by Several Agencies.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Semi-official estimates on employment which have been in use for some time by the government but were kept a secret until today, declare that 10,915,000 persons were jobless last September.

They also say that 5,000,000 persons formerly jobless have found work since March, 1933.

The figures, originally were compiled for President Roosevelt's committee on economic security by Robert H. Nathan, the consultant on unemployment statistics. Since that committee completed its work last spring he has kept them current unofficially.

Agencies Use Figures
Many federal agencies have used the estimates and they have been highly credited by government economists. But they have never before been disclosed because of the administration's reluctance to give official standing to any unemployment figures.

Although 5,000,000 persons had found work by September according to the estimates, the unemployment toll had been cut little more than 4,000,000 because nearly a million new recruits were added to the unemployed population between March, 1933, and September.

Nathan estimated the peak of unemployment at 16,871,000 in March, 1932. His final figure for October has not been determined, but preliminary calculations indicate it will show a substantial reduction from September's figure of 10,915,000.

The estimates are "no more than rough approximations," Nathan said, contending at the same time that they were the best available. They will soon be published in the International Labor Review, published by the League of Nations.

Special Privileges.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 4.—Gov. Davey promised today to submit proof to Ohio's house of representatives that Rep. George J. Harter sought special favors for applicants for several liquor licenses in Akron.

In a formal statement concerning the house's action yesterday, Gov. Davey said today:

"Mr. Harter has carried on an unscrupulous and unwarranted assault on the integrity of the state liquor department without offering any facts or making any specific charges. He has been a campaign of innuendo and inferential statements, as well as scurrilous and malicious lies."

Steven Sunseera, 27, of 214 East George street, was killed instantly at 3:15 a. m. today when the Eerie Limited passenger train at North State street crossing. Joseph Laasla of 217 East Farmington street, who was riding in the truck with Sunseera, suffered minor injuries and was expected to return to his home from the City hospital late today. Sunseera was driving a Bruno truck produce truck, and was starting on a trip to Cincinnati to obtain produce for the market here.

Laasla, told police, who investigated the accident, that he and the driver saw the train when they heard the track, and that Sunseera applied the brakes, but the machine skidded on the icy pavement and into the path of the limited.

Sunseera was almost decapitated, and every bone in his head was crushed, according to police. He had lost two fingers on the left hand.

Laasla suffered abrasions about the face and scalp and a chest injury. His condition was reported as fair today by City hospital attendants.

HUBER ROTO - RACK THRESHERS

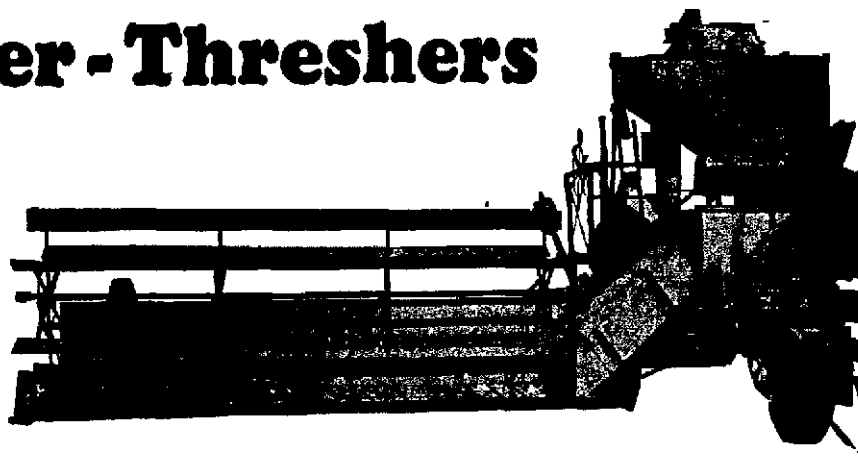

You will want to save your grain and Soy Beans with a Huber Roto-Rack Thresher—Ohio's most popular thresher. The New Huber Roto-Rack with its perfectly spaced cylinder, its rotating rack that extracts every grain or bean from the straw, its wide cleaning shoe and many other advanced features have earned for it a reputation among users that it is now the first choice among Ohio threshermen.

The Roto-Rack when equipped with a Soy Bean attachment does a splendid job of threshing, saving and cleaning Soy Beans as hundreds of users will attest.

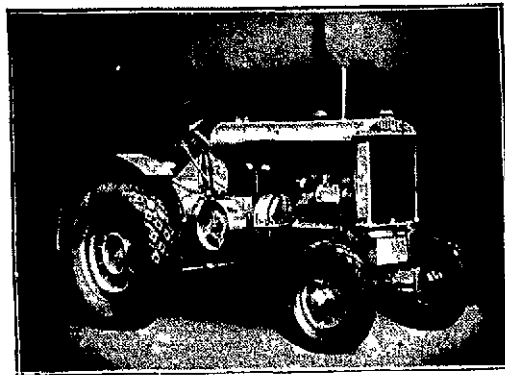

Huber Roto-Rack Threshers are built in three sizes—a size for every need. You will want one to make your threshing run successful.

Huber Combine Harvester-Threshers

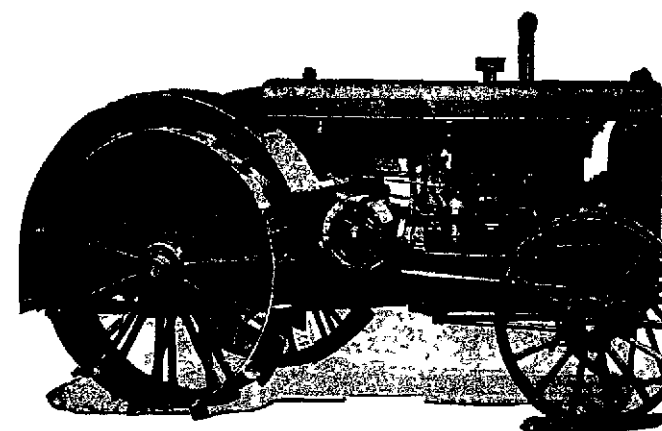

The greatly increased acreage of Soy Beans in Ohio has brought about a large demand for Combines. The Huber Combine is an ideal machine for handling this crop. Huber Combines have many outstanding features that enable them to do more and better work, chief among these is their specially designed rasp cylinder which does an excellent job of threshing and does not crack the beans. It is equally efficient in the handling of small grain crops. These machines are available in three sizes. There's an 8 ft. machine for use with the small tractor and 10 ft. and 12 ft. machines for larger requirements. You save when you combine with a Huber.

A FARM TRACTOR WITH MORE POWER

How often have you wished for more power to help you with your rush work when conditions were just right for best results? The Huber Modern Farmer with its excess power costs you but little more, if any, than tractors of ordinary power, but in the long run they are the cheapest to buy for this surplus power enables you to turn out more work at less cost. Huber Modern Farmers are light in weight, sturdy in construction and can be had either with steel wheels or rubber tire equipment. The rubber tired Modern Farmer can be equipped with a transport speed of approximately 12 m.p.h. These tractors burn gasoline, kerosene or distillate for fuel. There's a size and type for every need—a conventional four wheel type in two sizes and a wide-tread cultivating type in two sizes. For a real farm tractor investment, these Huber Modern Farmers have no equal.

When In Marion...

We extend to you a most cordial invitation to visit the Huber factory, where you will have an opportunity to see Huber machinery in the various processes of its manufacture. It will be time well spent.

BACKED BY REAL FACTORY SERVICE

Service is a much overworked word by salesmen selling farm machinery. Prompt service is invariably promised the purchaser, in case he may need it, at the time sale is made. How often have you been told when you were in dire need of service that the parts required would have to be supplied from the factory? When you sought the aid of a competent mechanic how often have you been told that none was available at that time? In many instances experiences of this kind have happened just when crops were in jeopardy. Ohio purchasers of Huber Machinery do not experience such unpleasant things. When you buy Huber Machinery your location places you in a position where real factory service can be had in the course of not more than a few hours at the longest. Is this not worth considering when buying such important farm machines as tractors, threshers and combines? Motto! Better be safe than sorry. Buy Huber, get the best backed by unsurpassed service.

Giants of Power

Huber builds three sizes of powerful tractors particularly suitable for threshing and other heavy duty work. As hundreds of Ohio threshermen will tell you, these tractors are unusually powerful and show marked economy in operation.

Marion Finances Better Than Many Ohio Cities

Associated Press Survey Reveals Conditions as Year Draws Near End.

While it appears that people in the public payroll in some of Ohio's major cities will have to forego the Christmas season without pay, there is no danger of that situation in Marion city and county, although there will be a deficit in both treasuries at the end of the year, officials reported today. That Marion city and county is faring better than many other localities, is revealed in a year-wide survey made by the Associated Press.

Marion city will face a deficit of $10,000 at the end of this month, according to W. M. Fabian, chairman of the finance committee of city council. Most of this shortage is represented in unpaid fighting and hydrant rental bills. Failure of the revenue from the state sales tax to measure up to expectations and failure of the gasoline tax revenue to yield as much as it had been hoped accounts for most of the expected shortage, Mr. Fabian explained.

County Shortage $40,000

The county will wind up the year about $40,000 in the hole, most of which is owed to the state for care of county wards and institutions, Auditor Harry V. Mounts reported. Like the city, the county's shortage is attributed, for the most part, to sales tax revenue being under the estimated amount. In spite of the shortages both city and county salaries will be paid, officials said.

Meanwhile a number of cities in the state face a serious financial dilemma, according to an Associated Press dispatch today.

City Auditor Samuel J. Willis has ordered payment of Columbus bills stopped and told policemen and firemen they would receive no

102 ROAD PROJECTS SUBMITTED BY STATE

$7,413,429 Expenditure Involved; Morrow and Hardin County Jobs Included.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 4 — The state highway department submitted today to the United States bureau of public roads 102 projects involving an expenditure of $7,413,429.

P. J. Kauer, federal project engineer aiding the highway department, said he expected the projects to be approved and work to start by March 1, 1937.

The money would be allocated from a $25,500,000 fund granted Ohio by the federal government for highway construction. The proposed expenditure includes $1,000,000 for county secondary roads. Improvements proposed on first class state roads and federal highways include 6.25 miles on route 42 in Morrow county at a total estimated cost of $300,000 and 2.01 miles on route 66 in Hardin county at $65,000.

Prospects More Cheery

More cheery tidings came from Cincinnati and Akron. In Ohio's second largest city, officials predicted a surplus would be shown at the end of the year. Akron officials said they would be able to pay all of their salaries, but the Rubber City is several months behind on current bills and interest on bonded debts.

Lima planned to meet its Dec. 1 payroll, but was doubtful about the remainder. Mansfield and Shelby faced the prospect of no funds for the first three months of 1937. Washington C. H. also had an empty treasury.

Lorain and Zanesville reported salaries would be paid on schedule despite depleted finances. Zanesville expects to have a $80,000 deficit.

NAZI "BOOK OF HEALTH"

By International News Service
BERLIN—A kind of "Doomsday Book of Health" is to be instituted in Germany, in which the state of health of all members of either sex of the National Socialist party is to be recorded over a number of years. Twenty thousand Aryan doctors have been detailed to make the necessary physical examinations. A big drive is to be made to create a health conscious and profitable nation.

V-8 ENGINE QUALITY SETS THE STANDARD OF FORD

Safety

THE 1936 Ford V-8 is the safest Ford car ever built. This is another result of the Ford Motor Company's purpose to build every part of the automobile in keeping with the quality of the V-8 engine.

For years the V-type engine has been a distinguishing characteristic of the most expensive cars. Making it available at low cost was a logical development of the knowledge gained by Ford.

With Ford, every car is built to the standard of V-8 engine quality. This tells you why the 1936 Ford V-8 is such a safe car to drive—why it surrounds passengers with the utmost protection known to modern engineering.

Over 100,000,000 cars have been built with V-8 engines. This means that for every car built with a V-8 engine, there are 100,000,000 others built with V-8 engines.

Relatively Safe and Sane.

General agreement on the inevitability of veterans' bonus legislation in the approaching session of congress has raised a question of President Roosevelt's intention with regard to bonus legislation. It has been suspected that the President might have relented in his opposition to pre-payment of adjusted service certificates.

Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau has tried to quell this theory of the new momentum in the bonus payment drive
by declaring that the administration's opposition to cash payment of the bonus is unyielding as ever. President Roosevelt will use his veto power, it is believed, on any bonus measure which doesn't provide funds for payment of the service certificates. Obviously, that leaves an opening for the bonus bloc.

Whatever may be President Roosevelt's formal position with regard to the bonus,
the bonus bloc, if given the support of the Democratic majority in congress, can dictate the outcome of a bonus vote.
It is a party problem, rather than a presidential problem. Mr. Roosevelt, by failing to use his authority as party leader, can oppose cash payment of the bonus and at the same time allow his party to enact a bonus bill.

All that is needed, apparently, is some kind of a system of payment. Significantly, the issue has been resolved wholly
as a question of a method of payment.
Formerly, it was a question of principle.
It was on principle that President Roosevelt based his veto in the latest session of congress. Undoubtedly, however, new deal fiscal policies, which have been in defiance of old fashioned ideas of safety,
have destroyed the chief congressional objection to cash payment of the bonus,
which was doubt of its soundness from a financial standpoint. Congressmen, anxiously trying to please the bonus bloc,
don't lose sleep over principles. Confronted on every side with financial activities which once would have frightened them half out of their wits, cash payment of the bonus, which would entail
only a couple of billion dollars, is beginning to seem relatively safe and sane.

Unity.

The prospect of Republican success in the next contest for the governorship is brightened by Clarence Brown's announcement that he will not be a candidate for the party's nomination. Supposition had made Mr. Brown a candidate, due to his nomination in 1934, when he was defeated by Martin L. Davey.

Mr. Brown's denial of interest in the nomination leaves Attorney General John
W. Bricker as more than ever the logical Republican candidate. Though he has not declared himself formally, Mr. Bricker has shown a keen and intelligent interest in the affairs of the governor's office. His candidate for the nomination has been taken for granted.

As a nominee Mr. Bricker would encourage real Republican unity in the contest for the governorship. He has the characteristics of a good leader and a good campaigner. The Democratic party, which is squirming uncomfortably at present under divided leadership, will find nothing to be happy about in the outlook. Mr. Bricker is acquainted sufficiently with the state's affairs to be a damaging opponent for Gov. Davey, who says he will run again
whether or not his party wants him to run.

Favorable.

Reviewers, commenting on winter's first snow spectacle, seem to be of one mind.
It was a good snow. The remarks of most interested parties were favorable.

The younger generation agreed it was excellent snow to slide on, to wade in and to make into snowballs. The older generation was thankful there was no more of
it to clean off sidewalks and confessed, when pressed, that it was pretty. Sometimes went so far as to say that as long as there was to be a winter it may as well be a snowy one.

It's easy to agree with that opinion. Despite reassurances from weather analysts, certain persons continue to talk about old-fashioned winters as though modern winters were poor substitutes. Every little snowfall helps to break down this nettling comparison. Somehow or other, winter must be accepted from the illusion that day by day things are getting worse and worse. However, that shouldn't be considered as a wish for excess, with regard either to snowfall or temperature. The moderation which has prevailed so far this winter is fully acceptable.

Marion's New Industry.

Today Marion formally greets Old Fort Mills, Inc., the latest addition to the community's list of industrial and business enterprises. The greeting comes also from beyond Marion, for the business to be operated by the new company is of immediate interest and value to a broad area
in this section of Ohio, extending over several counties. It will be the market place for soy beans grown on farms throughout the entire district.

We believe officials of Old Fort Mills, Inc., acted wisely in selecting this for their plant location. No better farming area than central Ohio exists in the entire country
and it should provide an ample crop supply for the mill now starting operations.
Transportation conveniences are of the best and labor conditions are of the highest standard. Marion citizens generally are loyal to all institutions which make up the community structure and naturally they stand ready to offer every possible means of support and encouragement to this added industrial asset.

And while this situation indicates that Old Fort Mills, Inc., should profit from selecting Marion as its operating point, it also promises much for Marion. The soy bean processing industry has prospects of development and expansion which are almost limitless. With this outlook, there is reason to believe that Marion is likely to occupy an outstanding place as a production and marketing center. Certainly everything is provided for making this possible.
Natural facilities are at hand and the agency for using these facilities to the fullest advantage is established.

Especially important and significant is the fact that the management is under the direction of men who know the business.
Executives of Old Fort Mills, Inc., have had years of practical experience in all branches of the soy bean industry. That provides the major requisite for success
and consequently is probably the chief reason for confidence in the future of Marion's new enterprise.

No Apology.

Americans read with interest on Monday
that the treasury was going to borrow $400,000,000 and that, if it succeeded, the national debt would reach an all-time high mark of $30,500,000,000, approximately $240
for every person in the country.

Most Americans, of course, are alarmed over the enormity of the debt. To their minds, it seems to be an insuperable obstacle in the path of their own and future generations. Furthermore, aware that it will be increased in the next several years,
they fear it may induce financial disaster.
That is the common attitude with regard to the national debt. It is not, however, the official attitude, as described by President Roosevelt last Friday in an address at Atlanta, Ga. Four passages from the President's speech reveal the official attitude. There can be found in it no hint of apology or apprehension.

Mr. Roosevelt, directing his remarks to "gentlemen in well warmed and well stocked
clubs," said: "If these more fortunate Americans will come with me I will not only show them the necessity for expenditures of this government but I will show them, as well, the definite and beneficial results we have obtained with the dollars
we have spent." It is true, however, that most apprehension originates in middle class living rooms.

Speaking of bankers, Mr. Roosevelt said that in 1933 they told him the national debt could be increased safely to a point between 55 and 70 billion dollars. The President has been challenged, incidentally, to name
the bankers who gave him such estimates.
He has not named them.

In another place, Mr. Roosevelt declared: "Your government says to you:
'You cannot borrow your way out of debt;
but you can invest your way into a sounder
future.'" Concluding, the President said:
"The credit of the government is today higher than that of any other great nation
in the world....the values of property of all kinds...have increased so greatly since 1933 that today we are once more in the black. We were insolvent; today we are solvent."

Neighborhood History

PIONEER PHYSICIAN
Dr. Alan Norton, one of the pioneer physicians of Marion county, came to Marion county in 1820. He was a native of Connecticut and before coming to Marion county lived for a short time at Radnor.

His practice extended all over Marion county and into the adjoining counties.
Delaware was the nearest point at which he could procure drugs. Making his calls on horseback he followed the cow paths and Indian trails.

In sickly seasons it often took him several days to make his rounds, and he remained overnight wherever darkness overtook him. His cabin was frequently visited by Indians while on their hunting tours, as it was a favorite place to rest and beg "Johnny-cake."

O. O. McIntyre
New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The season has spawned a formidable school of orchestra
leaders, a sleekly groomed group that adds
a wrinkle or so to the carefully managed brows of long established baton wielders.
The newcomers threaten to edge out several in high favor with a fickle public.

Favorites such as Guy Lombardo, Vincent Lopez, Jack Denney, Abe Lyman and even the idolized Rudy Vallee. A successful dance orchestra leader, what with radio,
movie and hotel engagements, is now definitely in what is called "the important money" division. A musical big shot.

Among arrivistes who threaten to dim
the lustre of settled directors are Al Donohue, Richard Himbre, Lennie Hayton and Ray Noble. These have scampered up the ladder quickly. And each has a special bag of tricks in the way of personal magnetism, gastronomy and presentation.

Orchestra leaders are reminded that the two most perfect acts of natural masculine teeth are those of Eddie Duchin and George Olson. Either could—and maybe has for all I know—pick up a tidy sum posing for tooth paste ads on the side. The handsome set of feminine teeth, many agree,
were those of Sally Fisher, once adorning musical shows but now retired. Oscar Shaw and Jack Whiting, now a rage in London, have exceptional molars, too.

Major jewelry establishments have not suffered a successful hold-up in this generation. Small shops have been looted time after time but the expensive alaiers have been untouched. Expert crooks know they haven't a chance. The entrance of a stranger in Cartier's and Tiffany's, for instance, throws up a defense as automatically as the press of a button floods
an electric bulb.

It was Arthur Train, as I recall, in one of his earlier magazine stories innocently enough threw a monkey wrench into the machinery of expensive jewelry protection.
His purely imaginative plot showed how one of the big stores could be—and in the story was—robbed. It caused an outcry, when printed in a national weekly and several changes had to be made in protective devices.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. has become quite a toff in London. A chit-chat column in a British weekly hails him as one of the most popular young men America has sent over. Already he has polished the rough edges of a Piccadilly accent into an almost perfect Oxonian gloss. And he has the loose-jointed figure that sells off tweedy togs. His romances with Gertrude Lawrence curled, but they remain friends and now and then frequent the grill together.
Those supposed to know say he will become a permanent figure in English film production.

Manhattan has a sort of secret fraternity
that might be called the Stay Ahead All Day club. Membership is composed of high-powered executives who are taking one or two days a month for complete rest. During this interlude no one may reach them, not even their secretaries. They read no mail, indulge a light diet and rest in a darkened room.

With the exception of Lola Long, all the bright feminine talkers seem to have deserted New York for Hollywood. Dorothy Parker is in her second year there and Virginia Faulkner and Tess Slesinger have been attired to studio routine. Their conversational art is that offhand casualness that no really follows a bored but somewhat studied yawn. It deflates stuffed shirts and indeed makes everybody within earshot fear whatever may be said will sound insane. So when they enter a room, they immediately have the floor. And do they like it!

From Augusta, Maine: "The members of our haunted house exploring society have found a pipkin. All deserted and the scene of two murders, 15 miles from any roadway. Will you join us on our visit the first week in January?"
Haven't you heard? That's the week I attend the annual meeting of the Stuffed Owl Collectors. Love to the spooks.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Dec. 4, 1925.
Ralph Fry, 28, of East Center street,
miraculously escaped death when his automobile was hit and demolished at the North Main street crossing by an Erie passenger train. He suffered two fractures of the right leg and was cut by flying glass.

Oscar Gust, clerk of the probate court,
was attending a meeting of the Shriners
in Columbus.

Mrs. P. K. Soper of Cleveland was a guest of her mother, Mrs. Scott D. Bell of North Main street.

Police Chief J. W. Thompson issued a warning to motorists to be unusually cautious in the heavy traffic during the Christmas shopping rush.

Walter Kilgus was elected master of Wholesale grange.

Dick Morris post of the G. A. R. at Gallon elected officers for the year, headed by J.
J. Boyer as commander.

St. Mary High school basketball team defeated St. Anthony's Institute of Kenton
in the season's first inter-scholastic game on the Y. M. C. A. court here, 30 to 18.
Capt. John McNamara of the Marion team was the star, picking five field goals and three from the foul line. C. Rush was Kenton's leading scorer with two field goals and four from the foul line.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Dec. 4, 1915.
The peace ship Oscar II, carrying Henry Ford and his expedition of pacifists, sailed for Europe. Before boarding the liner Mr.
Ford delivered a message to the American people in which he said he expected great good to come of the expedition.

It was announced at Washington that President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Gail would be married Dec. 13. The only guests were to be members of the two immediate households.

A Berlin dispatch reported German officials denied emphatically that Germany was seeking peace.

The feature picture at the Marion theater was "Get Rich Quick Wallingford." At the Columbia the picture was "A Night in the Show," starring Charlie Chaplin,
and at Hart's Family theater the Hart
stock company was appearing in "Chinatown Murder Mystery."

Mrs. Fern West was hostess to her embroidery club at her home on North State street.

Mrs. J. E. Phillips entertained the Twigs at her home on South Main street.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Some high orthodox Republican congressmen are hissing behind their hands at Chairman Fletcher's new national finance committee. They have not started booing it in public yet, but they will at the first opportunity.

The feeling is particularly strong among westerners. They did not expect Fletcher to go among the unemployed for his money raisers.
But they did expect others than directors of corporations to be represented on the committee, for the sake of appearances if for no other reason.

Something will be said to Mr.
Fletcher about this at the coming national committee meeting. Also a statement from a Republican congressional leader is highly probable.

Cockiness
President Roosevelt's political machinists may be fooling themselves and him, but they continue to turn their noses up at the Literary Digest poll. They are clinging to their original explanation
that the framing of the question encourages votes against the new deal.

A cabinet officer, for instance,
maintains that he would have voted "No" if a ballot had been sent to him. He says he thoroughly disapproved of the substance homestead policy, which now has flopped, also many other relatively minor things which have been done.

This attitude might sound very much like an advance official alibi, except for one fact. Double Chairman General Farley has returned from a scouting trip and radiated
the sunniest confidence via telephone to the top circle here, and as far south as Warm Springs.

Certain of Senator Borah's playmates have been complaining (apparently also to him) because he lent a hand to help Congressman Hamilton Fish get up on the Borah presidential coat tails. They call it
"the alliance of the lion and the mouse."

The inner explanation seems to be the simple one. Borah has been under attack by some good ladies who are calling him a Red. Mr.
Fish is the beau ideal of all anti-Reds, masculine, feminine or neuter. An O. K. from him is equivalent to acquittal by a jury.

Also Mr. Fish is supposed to have developed lately a vice-presidential receptivity.

Debt sight
An official who looked over Mr.
Roosevelt's shoulder at the writing of the Atlanta speech advised him to eliminate the line about the bankers telling him in 1933
that the debt could go to $50-$60,000,000 or $70,000,000,000. He declined to do it.

The remark is supposed to have been left in particularly for the effect it might have on the heavy treasury financing placed in the hands of the bankers the following Monday.

It is true some financial authorities had fantastic notions two years ago about the possible ceiling of the debt. Some published guesses ran as high as fifty billions at that time. Such notions are now generally recognized to have been foolish.

All that the best authorities seem to know about is that the current height is somewhere above
the chandelier.

Change
Further confirmation of the theory that the technological phase of unemployment has been overplaying can be found in a new study entitled "Machinery, Employment and Purchasing Power,"
made by the National Industrial Conference Board. This report shows that during the long range of 1870 to 1930 period of machine and technological improvements, the proportion of gainful workers to the total population rose from 32 per cent to 39 per cent.

Arthur Brisbane's News Review
ENGLAND'S last high character, Viscount Halifax, read the king's speech written by the king cabinet. The king's reference to steeply "urgently necessary" to guard our empire" are recommended to his government. We have an "empire" exactly, but we have a republic whose defending. Some of our loose billions might be well spent in that direction.

Ignoring some Italian friends,
the king went on to say, "My relations with foreign powers continue friendly."

Mentioning the Italian misunderstanding, he said: "My government will continue to exert their influence in favor of peace." If docs, peace will come.

Me Too, Says Salsela
Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia, sensibly asked the Emperor Johannes, supreme authority of the Ethiopian Coptic church, to arrange peace, if he can, with Mussolini, and Abuna Cril, high bishop of his church, is asked by Selassie
to do his best.

And now comes from Universal Service the important authoritative report that Haile Selassie has agreed to give part of his territory to Italy in return for peace.

Topguns for Uncle Sam
Washington says this country
plans a series of Pacific Ocean
"Gibraltars" armed with sixteen-inch guns with a fighting range of twenty-five to thirty miles. Quite amusing, considering that the original Gibraltar has become a useful rock, thanks to airplanes and submarines. Invading airplanes might not be kind enough to come within twenty-five or thirty miles of these interesting fixed Gibraltars.

What this country needs for coast protection is airplanes, for fighting and dirigibles for observation, located close enough together and high enough up in the air to make them really useful in the next war.
Nothing important will be done
from the ground.

Trying to protect Hawaii, the Panama Canal and strategic points on the Pacific with guns on the ground is childish. When you lose guns do against planes going 250 miles an hour, five or six up, coming, but in clouds of these sands, like mosquitoes?

S. O. of N. J. Is Busy
Universal Service says Standard Oil of New Jersey has contracted to supply oil for Italy's civilian and military purposes for the next 30 years—an exclusive contract.

That is what you may call salesmanship. John D. Rockefeller is supposed to have said to one of his assistants, busy with his desk all cluttered up: "Young man,
I like to see men that work for me with a clean desk in front
of them; their feet on the desk,
and wondering how they can make money for Standard Oil."

Walker Teagle, Standard Oil
New Jersey head, seems to have had his feet on the desk.
Actually, Standard Oil of New Jersey may extend credit to Italy
up to three hundred million dollars. Not everybody could do that, but for Standard Oil it is easy
plenty of oil under ground.

Prince Sumi of Japan, brother of the Mikado, fourth son of the late Emperor Yoshihito, takes the title "Prince Mikasa," meaning literally, "Prince of the Three Em-perors." The name "Three Em-perors" is taken from a Japanese mountain and is also the much revered name of the ship
on which Admiral Togo fought

UNIVERSITY HEAD AT STUDENT'S FUNERAL

Rev. Father Tredin Assists
 With Services for Youth from Marion.

Rev. Father Walter C. Tredin,
 president of the University of Dayton, assisted in celebrating the solemn requiem mass for John G.
 "Jack" Moran, today at 2 a. m. at St. Mary Catholic church.

Rev. Father William J. Spicker-man, pastor of St. Mary church, was the celebrant. Father Tredin served as deacon and Rev. Father Edward J. Sumner, assistant pastor of St. Mary church, was sub-deacon and delivered the sermon.
 Moran, an 18-year-old freshman,
 in pre-medical at the university,
 died Sunday morning in Good Samaritan hospital in Dayton following two major operations. He was the son of Mrs. Bertha Moran of 208 Oak street.
 In honor of his memory as a student of St. Mary Parochial school, the high school students
 were dismissed to attend the mass.
 Six of his former schoolmates, Angelo Farrugio, Walter Maxwell, Donald Runk, Robert Greenland,
 Joseph Sansotta Jr. and Maurice
 Tobin, served as pallbearers.
 Burial was made in the St. Mary Catholic cemetery.

DAVEY SAYS HE WILL PROVE LIQUOR CLAIM

that if any one had any proof of wrong doing, I would very promptly take action head off and demand vigorous prosecution."
 The house of representatives by resolution had asked Gov. Davey to substantiate his assertion that Rep.
 George D. Harter, Democrat of Summit county, hounded the executive office and liquor department seeking special favors. Harter had accused the governor of using political influence to block an inquiry.
 "I now make the charge directly," Harter told the house, "that the governor has been interested in blocking the investigation and that there are irregularities in the liquor department and I am now ready to prove these charges."
 Harter has asked Franklin county
 (Columbus) Prosecutor Donald
 J. Hoskins to investigate whether Davey or Francis W. Poulson, state Democratic chairman, used political influence to block the proposed liquor probe.
 Harter originally introduced a resolution providing for an investigation by a bipartisan committee
 of reports "that personal partisan favoritism" prevailed in the liquor department. This resolution lost two weeks ago.
 Hoskins declined comment on the progress of his investigation.
 He said he would question Francis Poulson, state Democratic chairman, Rep. John J. Hewitt, Democrat of Mahoning county, and Harter.
 Harter had accused Poulson of offering at least one state representative a state job to vote against the liquor investigation proposal. Poulson identified Hewitt as the representative referred to by Harter but denied the assertion.
 Poulson said he told Hewitt he thought he "could take care of" a few jobs in the highway department to overcome Hewitt's hostility to Davey.

STATE OFFICE BILL
 PAID BY TREASURY

By The Associated Press
 COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 4—Ohio
 paid off today her $750,000 debt which for a time threatened the state's credit.
 Gov. Davey's signature on an emergency bill passed by the general assembly permitted the state treasurer to make payment to holders of certificates of indebtedness issued to finance repairs necessitated by an explosion at the state office building in 1932.

BRUCE BARTON ASKS
 MORE ADVERTISING

and politics as the easiest method
 of achieving all these benefits.
 "Industry and politics, at the moment, are competitors for the confidence and favor of the same patron, the public."
 Pointing to the accomplishments of the automobile, farm implements, electrical, and steel industries as examples of the benefits of business leadership, Barton said,
 "We have a story to tell, but we do not tell it."
 "We have great benefits to confer upon the people if they will give us the opportunity, but we must persuade them that we are more reliable than the politicians;
 that we will work for them more cheaply and with more satisfaction."
 Wants All Forces Mobilized
 Barton then asserted, "This story should be told with all the imagination and art of which modern advertising is capable."
 Politics, he said, "has no such convincing and persuasive story as this; the telling of it genuinely, consistently, continuously, is your surest path to victory in competition."
 "By advertising, we may win our competition with the politicians for the favor of the owners of America."
 He warned, however, that "mere opposition and criticism are not much good. Attacks on the motives of our political competitors will not avail."
 He advised industry for 1936 to "spend half as much time with our lawyers trying to circumvent the politicians, and twice as much time with our sales managers and our advertising agents seeking to make ourselves popular with the boss of the politicians—the public."
 Emery Hits New Deal
 In another prepared address,
 James A. Emery, general counsel of the association, called the meeting "a call to arms, not against physical assault, but against the march of ideas and theories that steal into the minds of men like a thief in the night."
 Emery mentioned the numerous suits challenging the constitution-ality of several new deal laws, and appealed to "the government to stop multiplying the burdens of industry, unfasten its shackles, and let it move forward in ordered liberty."

Photos Show Soy Bean Plant Machines

 of part of the $50,000 worth of machinery and equipment in the soy bean processing plant of Old Fort Mills, Inc. The photos were taken in the plant shortly after installation of the machine a few days ago. At the upper left, in the foreground, is shown
 one of the three $5,000 expellers
 in which oil is extracted from the beans, and in the background is a roller in which beans receive a coarse grinding. In the lower left photo is a $1,600 filter press in which soy bean oil is

with three expellers which will enable the plant to process 1,500 bushels of beans every 24 hours.
 Approximately 13 per cent of the volume of beans will leave the plant in the form of oil, 85 per cent in the form of soy bean oil meal. A shrinkage of two per cent is expected in the course of processing. In addition to its bean storage at the plant, the company has bins of 275,000-bushel capacity
 at the Marion mill on North Prospect street. The plant, according to present plans, will operate without a stop except for a 30-day period in July for a seasonal full and overhauling of the plant.
 Between 24 and 30 persons will be employed regularly at the plant.
 Because of an extensive demand that has been developed in this country in recent years for soy oil and soy bean oil meal, the company is not expected to encounter any of the slump in demand that affect the operations of many other industrial concerns.
 Explains Plant Operation
 Mr. Holland explained the operation of the plant by tracing the movements of a load of beans
 from the time they arrive until the processing operation is completed.
 The beans, when brought to the plant, are weighed over inspected truck scales and again checked by automatic five-bushel scales in the head house or top of the elevator to guard against possible errors. Every lot of beans will be tested on federal grade standards,
 the same used by all processors
 in the United States.
 The beans, after they have been elevated and pass over scales, are cleaned and dropped into bins.
 From the bins they are conveyed to the second floor of the mill
 where they go through rolls roughly resembling an enlarged clothes wringer. This gives them a coarse grinding. From there, the beans are moved to steam-heated drying rooms where the moisture content is reduced approximately to two per cent. From the dryer, they are conveyed to the tempering
 bins where a temperature of more than 212 degrees Fahrenheit is maintained to bring the beans to the same temperature found inside
 the expellers.
 OH Squeezed Out
 In the expellers, the beans are compressed and the oil is squeezed out, the extreme heat facilitating this operation. The soy bean oil meal is tanked in the expeller.
 The oil is drained away from the expeller to a settling tank and from that tank pumped to a filter press where it is filtered through cloth. It is then placed in a storage tank to await delivery to manufacturers using it in their products.
 The meal removed from the expellers is in steel-covered conveyors in which moisture is added
 to restore the normal moisture content of 10 to 13 per cent. It is taken to grinders and from there to meal coolers. Then it is stored.

 Recommends Two Bills
 The house taxation committee recommended unanimously enactment of two measures designed to prevent evasion of the Ohio sales tax through purchases outside the state.
 One, a use tax, would be imposed on all purchases excepting automobiles, made outside the state. It would carry the same rate as the sales tax. The bill is sponsored by Rep. Harry J. Hansen, Republican of Paulding county.
 The other measure, sponsored by Rep. Patrick Buller, Democrat of Cuyahoga county, would require the payment of an inspection fee
 of $25 on all automobiles purchased outside the state.
 Darrell Greek, counsel for the sales tax division, estimated a use tax would increase the annual revenue of the sales tax by at least $2,000,000. No estimate was made of the revenues anticipated from the automobile inspection bill.
 Meanwhile, legislative developments included:

location of the international labor organization at Geneva.
 Though several unofficial estimates of unemployment are made from time to time, none is published in such detail as those gathered by Nathan. The committee on economic security used them in drafting the social security legislation.
 They showed that in September
 the bulk of unemployment was in the manufacturing, building, transportation, wholesale and retail and service industries.
 Nathan estimated that in that month there were 2,755,000 unemployed in manufacturing; 1,741,000
 in the building industry; 632,000 in the steam railroads; 979,000 in the wholesale and retail trades; and 663,000 in domestic and personal services other than laundries and cleaning and dyeing establishments.
 The only industry which has no unemployment, according to the estimates, was road building where Nathan calculates there was an excess over normal employment of 94-000 because of government spending.

Farmers of North Central Ohio
 We extend a cordial invitation to visit the Firestone Service Station at 273-283 East Center St. and see the display of Firestone Tires for Tractors, Trucks and Farm Equipment. We will hold this display during Soy Bean Days, so come in and acquaint yourself of the advantages of Firestone.

THE New Firestone GROUND GRIP TIRES

THE GREATEST TRACTION TIRE EVER BUILT

FOR CARS TRUCKS TRACTORS AND FARM IMPLEMENTS

NO Chains NEEDED

Increase Use and Value of Tractor
 Firestone Tractor and Farm Implement Tires make the farm tractor available for many more operations, thus increasing its value to the farmer.

Enable Tractor to Do More Work
 They reduce the rolling resistance and appreciably increase the drawbar horsepower of the tractor, making it capable of doing more work.

Permit Higher Speeds—Save Time
 They permit higher speeds and make it possible to pull the same loads in higher gear. This means an appreciable saving of time in many farming operations.

Save From 14 to 23 Per Cent in Fuel
 They save fuel—leading agricultural colleges, after extensive and scientific tests, reported fuel savings of from 14 to 23 per cent.

Do Not Throw Dirt
 They do not throw dirt over machine and operator. This makes it more healthful and comfortable for the operator and increases the life of the machine. The oil requires changing less frequently.

Reduce Vibration—Lessen Maintenance Cost
 They reduce vibration and depreciation, thereby cutting maintenance costs.

Make Turns Without Injuring Fields
 During field operations, turns can be made without injury to adjoining fields. They do not tear up the barnyard or farm roads.

Do Not Pack the Ground
 Their low air pressure limits ground pressure to 12 pounds per square inch. Thus they do not pack the soil, making the Firestone-equipped tractor ideal for seeding, harrowing, cultivating, and other light, comparatively fast operations.

OHIO SECURITY BILL AWAITED

Davey Expected To Send Message for Law To Take Advantage of U. S. Statute.

COLUMBUS, O.—Gov. Davey will soon send a message to the legislature broadening the scope of the pension bill further to provide for the consideration of social security. The message, on which the governor is now working, possibly will be ready shortly.

A one per cent federal tax on payroll becomes effective Jan. 1 and is expected to force Ohio legislators to pass a bill to take advantage of the federal law inasmuch as employers must pay the tax whether the state had enacted a suitable bill or not.

Sen. Hart McIntyre, D., Cleveland, already has a social security bill written, ready for introduction when the governor's message is received. This bill will have the backing of the Ohio Federation of Labor. Its provisions have not been made public.

The federal tax raises to two per cent in 1937 and to three per cent in 1938 and thereafter is paid into a special treasury fund and credited to states when unemployment insurance systems have been approved.

The federal tax burden falls equally on all employers subject to the law, making it impossible for industries in states without unemployment insurance systems to take a competitive advantage over those in insurance states.

To compensate employers compelled to contribute to a state system, the government returns 90 per cent of their federal tax.

The federal tax is to be levied against all employers of eight or more persons and is estimated to cover industries employing about 20,000,000 persons.

Ohio will have several types of systems from which to choose, including that which congress drafted for the District of Columbia, which many social security experts regard as a model. This law covers all employees, provides for a pooled fund with separate employer accounts for merit rating, contributions from the employers and the district, benefits of $16 a week maximum up to 16 weeks in any one year and a three weeks' waiting period.

TWO FACE CHARGES IN STORE BURGLARY

MARYSVILLE, Dec. 4.—Morris Roush, 32, of Columbus, arrested in Columbus last Saturday night as a suspect in the burglary of the Otto clothing store Sunday was brought here Monday from Chillicothe by Sheriff William Raush, Marshal John Schwartzkopf and Deputy Sheriff Robert Ackerman. When arraigned before Justice of Peace J. C. Harrison Tuesday Roush entered a plea of not guilty, waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury under bond of $5,000. Unable to give bond, he was placed in the county jail. An alleged accomplice of Roush, Frank Kline, 34, also of Columbus, arrested Saturday night with Roush, was brought here late Saturday night and when arraigned pleaded not guilty. Kline also was bound over to the grand jury under bond of $5,000.

OHIO POWER CO. GIVEN FRANCHISE

KENTON, Dec. 4.—The Ridge-way village council this week granted a 60-year lighting franchise to the Ohio Power Co. The franchise is not an exclusive one but will permit other concerns to operate in the village if they desire, Clerk H. A. Smith said.

DRYS WIN VICTORY IN WEST MANSFIELD

BELEFONTAINE, O., Dec. 4.—Dry forces won a decisive victory when they voted local option throughout five separate precincts. There were 238 votes cast. Dry majorities averaged about three to one.

China Clipper's Captain Has Notable Air Record

Capt. Edward Musick

By International News Service
LOS ANGELES—How would you like to spend four and one-half years in the air? Or fly over 1,000,000 miles in airplanes varying from a home-made "crate" to the smartly equipped American "air blazer," the 23-ton China Clipper.

That, remarkable as it is, is the enviable record of Captain Edwin C. Musick, who has successfully guided the world's first trans-Pacific air transport from California to its western terminus, Manila.

Born in St. Louis in 1894, Musick now rates America's first international air mail pilot, learned to fly 22 years ago in a commercial flying school in Los Angeles. His first ship, a pusher-type plane of his own construction, was the beginning of a long string of planes, comprising almost every imaginable make, and upon which he was continually experimenting and piling up flying hours. He thus became one of the "early birds" and continued in exhibition and commercial flying until the United States entered the war in 1917.

Trained U. S. War Aces Appointed civilian instructor in the United States army air corps at

on his various flights to the countries of the West Indies, Central and South America.
During several of these flights, when crew units were being blazed between North and South America, he served as co-pilot with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, head of Pan-American's technical committee.
Less than a year ago, when Musick captained the Brazilian Clipper, first of the transoceanic type Clipper ships developed by Sikorsky, he succeeded in breaking almost all the world records for speed and load for various distances up to 2,000 kilometers while on a test non-stop 1,250-mile flight.

Modern, quiet, effective, and with hands and slender fingers of a musician, Musick, himself, is proponent of a record which is figured in other measures than percentages. No serious accident has ever befallen any aircraft of which he was the pilot and no injury has ever been caused to any passenger in any of his planes.

KENTON PILOT ON WEST INDIES TRIP

Special to The Star
KENTON, Dec. 4.—Leonard W. Carothers, pilot with more than 5,000 hours of flying in 16 years' service, left this week for New York, N. Y., to pilot a plane on a cruise to Haiti, Cuba, the Canal Zone and other points of interest in southern waters.

MUSKINGUM VALLEY TO ATTRACT HUNTERS

Project Creating Lakes Will Attract Fowls Formerly on Non-Stop Flight.

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O.—A veritable paradise for waterfowl hunters is predicted by James W. Stuber, veteran of the state conservation division, when the inland lakes of the Muskingum conservancy district are formed.

connected with the conservation division for 33 years. Stuber claims waterfowl flights across the Muskingum valley have been non-stop affairs because there isn't sufficient water and food, but with the creation of large inland lakes and the establishment of small sanctuaries, excellent wing-shooting will be available through the fall season.

The conservancy district lakes will give sportsmen of eastern Ohio their first opportunity for wing-shooting within reasonable driving distance, Stuber said.

OHIO POLITICAL VIEW MUDDLED

Democratic Situation Especially Confused, News Letter from Capital Reveals.

By United Press
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 4.—About the only sure thing about the Ohio political campaign in 1936 is the renomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Both Republican and Democratic parties are badly torn by internal dissension and it is next to impossible to judge with any degree of accuracy the probable result at the polls next November.

The Ohio Democratic picture is much more complicated than the Republican because of the question which now surrounds the candidacy of Gov. Martin L. Davey. Davey has been taken by some to induce him to withdraw but he has emphasized that he does not plan to do so.

Few state Republican leaders will predict Roosevelt will not carry the nation, but they are sincere in their belief that a strong Republican standard bearer will be an even bet in Ohio.

All sections of the state concede the Republican nomination for governor to Attorney General John W. Bricker. Bricker represents a demand for recognition of the younger and less conservative element within the state Republican ranks.

More Night Accidents

Automobile accidents are most likely to occur at night, the traffic bureau of the state highway department says.

Despite the fact that traffic is considerably lighter at this period, 46.3 per cent of all accidents reported on state highways outside municipalities from January through September occurred during the hours of darkness compared with 49.4 per cent during the hours of daylight, with 4.3 per cent happening at dusk.

Advocate of Reform

Mrs. Marguerite Kelley, new superintendent of the Marysville reformatory, believes the function of a reformatory is not to punish its inmates, but to train and later return them to society as useful citizens.

Mrs. Kelley, as former assistant prosecuting attorney in Cuyahoga county, has had much contact with incorrigible boys and girls during her professional life. Her work has given her a wide study of psychology of subnormal boys and girls. She was also assistant police prosecutor.

She announced upon her appointment that it would be her aim as head of the state institution to see that girls take the right path.

"FOOLS GOLD" CAUSES BUILDINGS TO HEAVE

Chemical Change When Exposed to Air Makes Compound Occupy More Space.

By United Press
COLUMBUS, O.—"Fools' gold" which has caused many an Ohio farmer's heart to palpitate with the thought of countless riches is now causing palpitation of another sort in the foundations of many buildings.

"Fools' gold" or iron pyrite, as it is known chemically, is a combination of iron and sulphur appearing as glistening yellow cubes. In the past it has caused little damage, other than disappointed hopes.

Some time ago, however, a big laboratory near Cleveland began to act as though ghostly forces were at work.

Insistent floors, supposed to be sagging, were found to have a tendency to heave. Columns resting on excellent foundations were squeezed until they were trying to attain a modified H shape, according to engineering experiment station specialists at Ohio State university who are investigating this case.

Investigation revealed that the foundation resting on undisturbed shale contained "fools' gold."

Pyrite, according to the engineers, is harmless as long as it is undisturbed, but when uncovered and exposed to the air, oxygen changes it into a new compound occupying 13 times as much space.

Station investigations have indicated it is safe to build on shale where the pyrite has been exposed and weathered. When the diggings reach shale not previously exposed to the air a mastic seal coat of some kind for the shale is advised.

STAMP COLLECTING GROWS
NEW YORK—Capt. Tim Healy, stamp collecting authority, believes that interest in stamp collecting is on the increase among school children. He estimates that he has told adventure stories concerning stamps to 7,000,000 school children in your years of personal appearances.

The manufacture of paper may be attempted in the Philippine islands in connection with the government's plans to establish new industries.

SOCIAL REGISTER DROPS BARBARA AND VANDERBILT

The 1935 New York social register, so-called directory of America's highest society, has bowed out of the press again with its usual surprises. This year the names of such notables as Barbara Hutton (right), the Woolworth heiress and wife of Count Vaughn-Reventlow, and Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. (left), were found wanting. However, others made comebacks, including the lovely Jane Wynt (center figure), who left a Park avenue home for a stage and screen career, and Whitney Bourne (lower left), socialite actress. WPA HOUSING PROJECT SET Relief Administration Plans Program for "White Collar" Workers.

A WPA "white collar" project calling for an extensive housing and industrial survey in the city of Marion is being set up by the federal relief administration.

Ten such projects in as many cities in the state were needed before the federal government would go ahead with the job, and these have now been secured, according to Edwin Knight, district supervisor for the survey-type projects. It is intended that final results of the survey would furnish detailed information concerning different rent areas in the city, information on condition of all homes, the number and kinds of buildings in the city, some of which might be available for new industrial sites, number of old and obsolete structures, heating and sanitary facilities in dwellings and buildings, number and types of vacant dwellings, capacity of houses and apartments, and a wealth of information ordinarily found in an industrial and housing survey.

The project would continue five months, employing 50 persons, for a two-month period and 30 for the final three months. Total cost of the project here is estimated at $18,000, most of which would be spent in salaries. The cost to the board of county commissioners, which would sponsor the job, would be but a fraction of the total cost, Mr. Knight pointed out. Further details of the proposed project will be announced within a week or so.

GALION TO EMPLOY WPA PROJECT BOSS

Wages of 75 Cents an Hour To Be Paid Out of Funds For Each Job.

Special to The Star
GALION, Dec. 4.—An emergency ordinance was passed by city council Tuesday night authorizing and directing the director of public service, L. A. Cline, to employ a foreman on WPA projects of the city, and directing wages of the said foreman at 75 cents an hour to be paid out of funds appropriated or set aside for each individual project.

It was explained that the passing of such an ordinance was necessary in order to take men off of direct relief list of the city. Larger projects make it necessary for the employment of a more experienced and capable foreman than the WPA project would provide.

A communication was received from Attorney Alfred B. Leuthold of Bucyrus, representing Mrs. Anna Collins of Galion, who asks for a claim against the city for damages amounting to $1,000. She tripped over a plank which the city had permitted to be on the street when it granted the Mardian organization permission to erect platforms for a street exhibition, she claims. She received a broken arm from the fall. This was referred to the finance committee.

CRESTLINE YOUTH TO WED IN JANUARY

Announcement Made at Party in Shelby.

Special to The Star
CRESTLINE, Dec. 4.—Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Mildred Metzger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon F. Metzger of north of Crestline, to Paul Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fisher, 323 South Thoman street, Crestline, was made when Miss Mary Metzger, sister of the bride-elect entertained a group of relatives and friends at her apartment on East Main street in Shelby. The wedding will take place Jan. 11 at Sacred Heart Catholic church in Shelby.

Mrs. F. J. La Londe of near Leesville will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association Tuesday at 8 p. m. Mrs. John Lohmeyer was hostess

Monday evening to members of the Just-A-Mere club at the home of Mrs. K. E. Peppard.

A meeting of the Missionary society of the Calvary Reformed church was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. L. Margard.

G. M. PAYS KNUDSEN MORE THAN SLOAN

Salaries and Bonus Listed at $211,128 and $201,743, Respectively.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—General Motors' top-flight salary list—showing total payments of $100,000 to $200,000 annually to ranking officers—was made public yesterday by the securities commission over the company's protest.

It revealed William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president, drew $211,128 in salary and bonus last year, and Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president, $201,702. Twelve others received more than $70,000, with a sharp drop from that figure to $25,000 or less for some twenty directors.

This information was filed months ago with what commission officials said was a request that it be held confidential. Several hundred companies, similarly, asked secrecy for specified details of their business, which the law required that they furnish in registering their securities.

Considering each case separately, the commission recently decided that in about 200 instances it was to the public interest that the information in question—dealing some times with sales totals, net income and the like, as well as salaries—be made generally available. About twenty, mostly minor, were made public tonight.

GIRLS MAY BOB

New Reformatory Head Likes Short Locks.

By The Associated Press
MARIYVILLE, O., Dec. 4.—Bobbed hair on the inmates gave visible evidence today of the change in administration at the state reformatory for women.

Mrs. Marguerite Reilly, Cleveland attorney-social worker who became superintendent of the reformatory Monday, said she found many of the 300 inmates had received demerits for bobbing their hair.

She informed the "girls" they could bob their hair, she said. "I like bobbed hair," she said. "Besides, it's more sanitary."

ROOMERS QUESTIONED IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Police Say Youngstown Man Admits Killing Wife With Hammer.

By The Associated Press
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 4.—Police questioned two roomers at the home of Henry Roth, 55, today after Detective Thomas Bowser announced that Roth confessed killing his wife with a hammer Sunday.

The woman had scolded Roth for coming home drunk, the detective quoted Roth as saying.

Bowser said a bloodstained hammer and bloody clothes had been found in the Roth home. An undertaker, called by relatives who said Roth had told them his wife died from hemorrhages, called Coroner D. H. Hauser into the case. Roth's arrest followed.

The two roomers were detained as witnesses. Roth is an unemployed carpenter.

The team of paper shopped over the office floor for pajamas' pathos and at last found one.

A strain on a lunch hour was enough to find a pair of notes that said "The pajama velvet long black satin trousers; satin black silk nightgown; A B C book estimate of a good A B C pajamas. Well, go ahead." This wild confusion through the shopper must have been like the pajamas, sleeping, eating and dressing—in the store—like a piece of lovely, nubby pajama-less Christmas day if he or she has any yearning at all to sleep, lounge or play hostess in pajamas.

Military styles are good for men, according to one Marion salesman, and in-silk pajamas which are coming back like a house afire. The colors are deep maroons, blues, greens or black—and in broadcloths stripes of any width and any of all colors are the big item. Men will like the new plain silks, the paisley satens with satin trims or the fancy brocades.

In the way of gowns, the shopper saw a delectable shell-neck silk crepe creation, with a deep V-decollage over which can be worn an implett little jacket, both the gown and jacket piped in light blue. Gowns are either tailored or very lady feminine with puffed sleeves and a 100-per-cent demure air.

More on Pajamas

Found another note on pajamas: "Rainbow-rose either skivvies with

For both men and women, One for a young girl has brown silk crepe trousers and a crown, orange and cream plaid silk cape top with short sleeves and a little round collar.

Or how about very tailored flannel pajamas in blues, reds and browns, the short jackets tricked out with silver buttons and buckles. Maybe two-piece corduroy pajamas in vivid colors with braid lacing for trimming would do.

The variety of styles, materials, colors and color-combinations is so endless that there isn't a person in the village who should be pajama-less Christmas day if he or she has any yearning at all to sleep, lounge or play hostess in pajamas.

From pajamas to gowns to robes: About the smartest thing in robes for women are the new hostess robes of softest flannel, floor length, fastened at one side of the high neck with a huge button, in which is space for the lucky owner's initials. They come in aqua, lavender, rose and poudre blue. Reversible robes in satins and crepes are good and the solid-color flannel robes that have been popular for several years are still holding forth as big items on the Christmas lists.

Away from the frothy and steamlines of pajamas, gowns and robes, to gadgets, one of the shopper's true loves. Just say "gadget" and 99 people out of 100 will want to know all about it. The hostess who likes to make her party one of the perfect things she's read about, will go for the new butter printers. Flower, fruit and animal designs can be imprinted in the individual pale as quick as a wink. German cookies, the ne plus ultra of Christmas confections, can be given a new air simply by rolling them out with a new gadget that prints all manner of clever designs. There are salad scissors and scissors to dissect a fowl in a jiffy. Forks and spoons of natural wood, cherry, whitewood and boxwood, to be used in blending salads or for mixing. The same woods will be found in the new food salad bowls on legs, and the new hors d'oeuvres trays. Tarnish-proof metal skewers, egg separators, ice crushers, baking shells for oysters, tuna fish or shrimp salad, soup and punch ladles all gotten up so attractively that any kitchen will be a gay place for their being in it. Cork-scoops galore, all sizes with clever grips, are another gadget feature.

Something for Kitchens

And speaking of kitchens, there are several thoughtful gift buyers who have already made purchases of new ranges to replace out-moded and time-worn models over which wives and mothers have worked for too many years. Actually, the shopper knows where at least two of the ranges are going—Christmas secrets. It may sound a bit odd to buy a person a range for Christmas but nothing could please a woman who must cook three meals every day more than any of the new ranges, gas or electric, Marion stores are showing. And at first it may seem odd, but practical gift shoppers have been looking at the new streamlined carpet sweepers that every housewife who ever owned one knows is about the handiest thing in the house. Sometimes a few crumbs, a raveling, a bit of dirt carried into the room on shoes, seem such a little bit to bring out the electric cleaner for, and these light little sweepers are whizzes. The new ones have a removable dust pan that saves carrying the sweeper outside to empty, and the mechanism is so simple that nothing ever goes wrong. They're equipped with rubber bumpers, too.

Let's be bilthe again—if you can when fur coats are mentioned as gifts, but every year Marion merchants deliver lovely furs to some

Those who don't buy Christmas cards by the box and mail them out just to be sending a card, should be on their toes for the most exciting array of greeting cards ever on display. One shop seems to specialize in cards and it's half the fun of Christmas to go there and find just the card for just the person in mind. All the stores that handle cards are trying more and more to please the individualist, and the stocks are amazingly ingenious this early in the season.

Twin Sweater Set

Scamper out, too, and get a twin sweater set, in combinations of white and black, mauve and brown, Jockey red and gray. While sweaters are outstanding, according to one buyer, and the intricate weaves make for the smartest bits of knitted wear possible. And this same buyer suggested that perhaps no more fitting gift could be given the sportsman, than a knitted dress or suit.

To go with the sweaters some of which are hand-made, a light weight flannel skirt may be had in brown, black, rust or green.

Writing of skirts suggests the new metallic blouses to be worn with silk or velvet skirts. One seen in a case was a double duty trick, either worn with a high cow line in front and a V opening in back, or turn it around and lo—it's a surplice front.

Velveteen hat and scarf sets in gold, royal blue, black, brown, burnt orange or Kelly green are worth consideration. The hats aren't just slung-together affairs, but are made over regular hat forms.

The initiated belt and buckle sets which are being shown this year for men, the bill fold sets, the combination of garter and suspenders—brace to you—all come in two-in-one gift packages which may be turned into a cocktail tray, a cigarette box or an ash tray after Christmas. The ties are bright, some say, and they are in subdued colors, according to others, whatever you choose in ties probably will be okay.

Leather goods, whether it be a bill fold set, or one of the new brief cases with new compartment divisions are generally appreciated. Gladstones still lead in men's luggage, the merchant says, with dark brown and black leathers out in front.

A new gadget is a combination clothes brush and shoe shiner in a leather case.

Leather brings to mind the subject of jackets, which are in plain or pigskin leather, full or half zipper fastened, in brown, black or tan, with sporty backs. Filled luggage is still the thing for women.

Jackets lead to the topic of sweaters, also full or half zippers. In solid or "window pane" plaids with V necks. Coming back for boys are the plaid mackinaws, pulch and full-belied.

New Collars for Men

Non-wrinkle collars, pointed, or buttoned down, are the greatest improvement note in the line of shirts which most women purchase for gifts. All-over patterns in grays and browns are quite all right. In men's hosiery the English socks are plaids in blues and attention culms of glass covers and silk or parchment shades.

Here are some more of those confounded notes that advise gift shoppers of styles in $5, $6 or $8-lengths, according to the style gown with which they are to be worn, of shoulderettes for grandmother, and of lovely handmade batiste nightgowns in peach, pink or white, made with the long sleeves which many persons still demand in sleeping apparel.

For the traveler a suede pouch holding four bottles for lotions might be desirable. The new stationery, in white and light shades boxed handsomely would be appropriate for anyone. Slipper key carrier or a key carrier which reveals a tiny flashlight are other gifts to be found in one store, and there is also a hat stand with a small hat brush swinging underneath.

No person could pass up the new bridge tables which may be con-

OHIOANS BACK FROM ETHIOPIA

Collapse of Business Cause of Leaving Addis Ababa, Wife of Leather Dealer Reports.

By International News Service
WOOSTER, O., Dec. 4.—Collapse of business in the city of Addis Ababa, rather than fear for their personal safety caused Mr. and Mrs. Heinrich Eller and their two children, Gretchen, 5, and Heinrich, Jr., to leave the Ethiopian capital five weeks ago. Mrs. Eller said on her arrival here. She and the children will live here with her mother, Mrs. Mina Davison.

The husband, who has been a buyer of leather and furs in Ethiopia, left his family at Djibouti, and proceeded to India while the wife and children came on to the United States.

Mrs. Eller, born and reared here, went to Ethiopia 12 years ago as a teacher. She was sent by the missionary organization of the United Presbyterian church. There she met and married Eller, and abandoned teaching for the profession of wife and mother.

100 Americans There
About 100 Americans were included in the 3,000 whites in Addis Ababa when war was declared, Mrs. Eller said. Many whites are still there. When she left they were digging dugouts and making other preparations against Italian raids.

Mrs. Eller smiled as she said their party left Addis Ababa "on the last train," pointing out that the railroad is still operating regularly.

Reports that Ethiopians in towns conquered by the Italians quickly become "contented Italian subjects" is given little credence by Mrs. Eller.

"My 12 years there," she said, "convinced me that natives are very independent in spirit, and that they possess a great hatred for any nation which attempts to control their affairs. Italy's military might may enable her to capture the leading towns, but I cannot believe that military victory will bring domination. Uprisings are certain to continue for many years before the spirit of those natives can be broken."

Fearful of "The Winds"
The greatest fear of the native soldiers is poison gas, which they call "the winds." Mrs. Eller reports that chief inquiries made by soldiers concerning first skirmishes of the war was about "the winds."

Although poorly equipped with modern weapons of war, Ethiopians do not fear any other weapons possessed by the invaders.

Mrs. Eller said the influx of war correspondents sent prices of rooms skyrocketing from $3 to $30 a month in Addis Ababa, largely because the available supply of suitable rooms is small.

Russian farmers speed the growth of cotton plants by sprinkling coal dust on the fields, the darkness of the surface absorbing heat from the sun in daytimes and re-radiating it at night.

"POMPEII" IS GREAT SPECTACLE PICTURE; OPENS AT PALACE

Donationally a motion picture comes along in which outstanding acting performance lifts it to great heights.

Such a picture is RKO-Radio's "The Last Days of Pompeii," which opened a three-day run at the Palace theater yesterday.

The latest screen spectacle boasts three exceptionally good performances—those of Basil Rathbone, Preston Foster and Louis Calhern. A cast of competent bit players add to the work of the three leaders.

Bearing only the title, "The Last Days of Pompeii" is not to be confused with Bulwer Lytton's book of the same name. The screen play was written by Ruth Rose from an original story by James Ashmore Creelman and Melville Baker.

It tells the story of a Pompeian blacksmith who after losing his wife and child because he was unable to afford a doctor sets up gold as his God. His unscrupulous struggles for wealth are pictured, and the theme carried to the climax—the destruction of Pompeii by the eruption of historic Mt. Vesuvius.

Preston Foster plays the blacksmith with understanding and power. Though in a small part the very English Basil Rathbone gives probably the best performance in the picture in the role of Pontius Pilate, Roman ruler of Judea who permitted the crucifixion of Christ. Louis Calhern is sufficiently cruel and pagan in the part of the Roman prefect of Pompeii.

"The Last Days of Pompeii" is recommended as an entertaining spectacle drama—G. H. M.

SEE MARKET FOR HOMES OF STEEL

Heads of Industry Vision Future Low-Cost Housing Development.

By International News Service. YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 4.—"Home sweet home—That's a thought that brings pleasure to even the hardest of hearts. And on that psychology, leaders of the steel industry envision a solution to the tremendous problem of new markets presented by the huge increase in output of steel mills.

The nation's most crying need, these steel leaders believe, is a good—but inexpensive—home. "There is a potential market in this country for 10,000,000 homes, or more, during the next 10 years, provided the price is right," one high executive in the industry declared. "And with new continuous method of rolling sheets, pre-fabrication, and mass production, the price soon may be right."

Each of the steel homes which the industry advances as its contribution to the field of low-cost housing is a potential market for four to 10 or more tons of steel. An extensive home-building campaign would absorb much of the slack in the industry, which now has a capacity of 70,000,000 tons a year.

225 GRADS OF O.S.U. IN MARION COUNTY

Majority of Those Living Here Are Teachers, Alumni Records Show.

A total of 225 Ohio State university graduates live in Marion county and county, according to records of the Marion County Alumni association of which J. E. Frew is president.

Many of these alumni are expected to attend the annual Ohio State day dinner meeting Friday night at 8:30 at the First Presbyterian church.

The association records show there are 99 teachers, 20 doctors, 15 lawyers, five dentists, four veterinarians, 20 merchants and business men and about 70 persons engaged in other work in the city and county who have received degrees from the university. In addition to as many more who have attended the university for periods less than that required for a degree.

Ohio gets by far the most of the benefit from its investment in the university, according to Mr. Frew. Of 33,000 alumni, at least 25,000 are living in the state. A recent survey shows that 3,500 graduates are in educational work in Ohio, 1,045 are lawyers, 1,000 are dentists, 396 veterinarians, 650 physicians and surgeons, 2,000 are in business, 2,100 are listed as executives, 800 are in agriculture, 875 in manufacturing, 350 in public office and 225 in journalism.

In alumni, students, former students and parents of students attending the university this year have been invited to attend the dinner Friday night. Reservations may be made with Mrs. A. Merle Hamilton of 407 East Center street.

CALEDONIA CHURCH CLASS ENTERTAINED

Special to The Star

CALEDONIA, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Belle Rinker and Mrs. Ethel Porter entertained the Adelphi-Karion class of Memorial M. E. Sunday school Monday night at the home of Mrs. Chester Ullrich in Marion. Nineteen members and four guests, Mrs. Fred Bacon, Mrs. H. M. Hart, Miss Mary Curly and Mrs. Chester Ullrich were present. Roll call was responded to with Christmas greetings. The meeting opened with singing "Silent Night" and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing." Mrs. R. T. Highly read the scripture lesson from the second chapter of St. Luke and the Lord's prayer was repeated in unison. Mrs. Orval Garber and Mrs. Laura Simpson gave Christmas readings. A donation of $20 was made to White Cross hospital and it was voted to contribute $3 for Sunday school treat at Christmas and Mrs. C. F. Kelly, Mrs. Orval Garber and Mrs. G. A. Hickson were appointed to prepare baskets of fruit for the shut-in members. The names of Mrs. W. H. Harrington and Mrs. W. C. Baird were drawn for January hostesses. Mrs. G. A. Hickson presented honors. The exchange of gifts and luncheon featured the social hour. Decorations in the rooms and appointments for the luncheon were suggestive of the Christmas season.

Mrs. Clara Messerly, who was in Grant hospital, Columbus, for 25 days for treatment and operation, has been brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Curtis J. Jey, where she will spend the winter.

A dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cox east of Caledonia Thanksgiving day celebrated the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Cox and also the sixth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson and Miss Pauline Cox of Mansfield, Mrs. Dave Bishop of Marion and Mr. and Mrs. Cover Rinehart.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Colic—And You'll Enjoy Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sick, weak and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only mechanical. A more powerful movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel up and up. Laxatives, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Habitually refuse anything else.

There are approximately 22,000,000 one-family homes in the United States.

REFUNDER LAW FOES TO SEEK INJUNCTION

Case To Be Filed in Clark County Court Despite Assembly's Action

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 4.—Counties joined in the fight against the Lawrence Amendment act will seek a permanent injunction in Clark county common pleas court.

Henry B. Worley of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, a member of a committee which proposes an appeal to the legislature for repeal of the act, announced yesterday that a permanent injunction would be sought regardless of what the legislature might do. He said the act benefitted only seven counties. A bill to repeal the law has been introduced.

The act provides for setting aside 10 per cent of county auto license fees for retirement of county road bonds due Jan. 1 or thereafter.

JUDGMENTS SOUGHT IN LIMA BANK CASE

Three Brothers and Two Corporations Named Defendants by State Official.

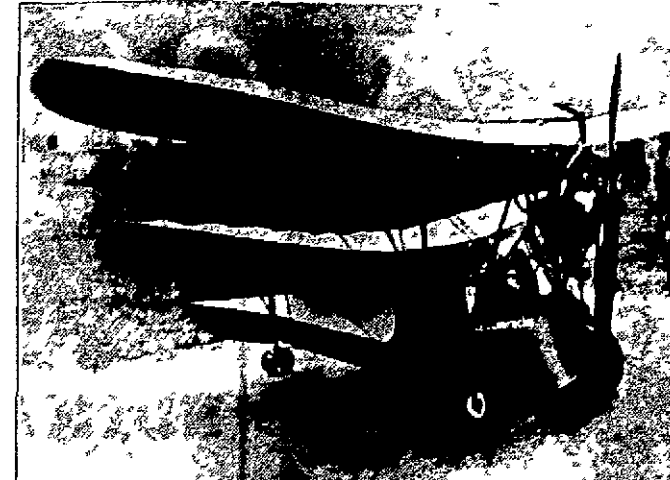

By The Associated Press
LIMA, O., Dec. 4.—A state auditor named three brothers and two corporations in Lima civil life, and two corporations defendants in a suit filed yesterday to obtain judgments of $50,000 allegedly due the defunct Lima First American Trust Co.

The suit charged Mayor A. L. McInerney, Postmaster George H. McInerney and Charles F. McInerney, with intent to defraud their creditors. The suit asserted that the McInerney Exlates Inc and the Allen Ohio Co were corporations formed by the brothers for the sole purpose of evading judgments previously obtained against them.

The bank liquidators demanded the brothers turn over extensive urban and rural property holdings to a receiver unless they meet six unsatisfied judgments.

The brothers were ordered to show cause on Dec. 15 why a receiver should not be appointed for the properties.

REPUBLICAN SCORES ROOSEVELT POLICIES

Claims President "Shifts with Every Breeze and Stands for Nothing"

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 4.—John Hamilton, general counsel of the Republican national committee and former national committeeman from Kansas, said President Roosevelt is not only a demagogue but a political opportunist as well, who has shifted with every breeze, who stands for nothing and who can be fought on common ground because he takes no ground at all.

Hamilton addressed several hundred campaign workers for the Cleveland C. Bolton (R. Ohio) who announced his candidacy for re-election at the meeting last night. Asserting that the time had "long since arrived when Republicans had to get out and tell the country what is going on," Hamilton said "I don't want to be disrespectful of the President but I am reminded of the old political saying that figures don't lie, but liars figure."

"When he took office Hamilton continued, 'we saw all his thoughts undergo one marvelous transformation. He abandoned all his conservative views and took up with all people bound straight program of socialism. He backed this nation on a program of centralized control only in some European countries under emergency. He took the country by ways of waste and profligacy."

A WEDDING, lovely in its simplicity, was solemnized this morning at the First Presbyterian church when Miss Katherine Eymon became the bride of John F. Smith. The single ring ceremony was read at 8:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Howard L. Oleswiler in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride and bridegroom, unattended, entered the church from the pastor's study, to exchange their vows before an altar backed with palms and greenery, and lighted with tall white tapers held in two seven-branched candelabra. A single Cella Lily, caught with bows of white tulle, marking the front pews reserved for the families of the bride and bridegroom, completed the decorations in the church.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Harry T. Williams played a half-hour organ program of nuptial music. Her selections included "Romance," "Tchaikowski," "Venetian Love Song," "Nevin," "Meditation," "Drum," "Love Song," "Ambrose," "Love Dream No. 2," "Liszt," "Indian Love Call," "Frank," "Serenade," "Toselli," "Love Song," "Wright," and "Cantata." During the ceremony she played, "I Love You Truly," and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

The bride wore a smart frock of brown tulle cloth. The look sleeves were close fitting and a narrow shirred panel gave fullness to the bodice, which was trimmed with clasp matching the belt buckle of brilliant. Her small hat was a Russian cosak model in the same shade as her frock and was trimmed with gaily. White gardenias arranged in a shoulder corsage completed her costume.

The bride's mother wore a gown of black crepe with a white vest, her hat was of black velvet and she wore white gloves. The bridegroom's mother was in black crepe with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, received their friends informally before leaving the church and started immediately on a wedding trip which will take them on a 10 day motor trip through the south. For traveling Mrs. Smith chose a black coat with racoon trim, brown gloves and purse. Upon their return they will make their home at 233 East Walnut street.

The bride is the daughter of the late Attorney J. H. Eymon, and Mrs. J. H. Eymon of 340 Mt. Vernon avenue. She was graduated from Harding High school in 1928 and attended the University of Michigan where she affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Until recently she was employed at the Oyster shop.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mrs. Earl C. Smith of 403 South State street. His father was the late Earl C. Smith. He was a member of the senior class at Harding High school in 1928, and was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university in 1930. He later attended the University of Michigan and Northwestern university. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi and Alpha Kappa Psi fraternities. His business association is with the Frank M. Knapp insurance agency.

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

WED-PATTERN A MATRON MAY VARY TRIM OF THIS FLATTERING FROCK

Little changes—extra touches—make certain frocks favorites with us. Especially so when we've only one or two "better" ones to change off to. This flattering model, will have special appeal for the size forty-eight, though it's equally smart in smaller sizes—and both will welcome the varied ideas for trim—buttons one week, a braid frog the next, and cloth piques when you want to look extra nice. Great weight-concealers, too—those slender center panels which minimize the side-to-side measurement—and a double jabot that saves work by being cut in one with the yoke. Loveliest in dull lustre satin, dark synthelle, or a winter sheer.

Pattern 2511 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 34 takes 4 1/4 yards 35 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Don't wait! Send now for the winter pattern book. You need all the advice Anne Adams gives you on keeping the family thrifty and attractively dressed. You need to know more about clothes etiquette, more about fabrics and fashions, more about glorifying your type! You'll welcome the timely tips on Christmas gift problems too. Price of book fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Address orders to The Marion Star, Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.

Galion Grid Star Wins All-Conference Position

Associated Press First Team List Includes Don Burnison.

Don Burnison, lightweight Galion football star at Ohio university, drew a first-string position on the all-Buckeye conference team of the Associated Press for 1935, regarded as the most star-studded aggregation ever named from that league.

In a news dispatch from Columbus today, The Associated Press listed Burnison and the other choices for first, second and third teams.

Burnison is the only one of the five men in the center of the forward wall of the first team weighing less than 300 pounds. Burnison, whose weight is 184, The Associated Press reported, spotted every opponent plenty of pounds and then outplayed many of them during the season, making up in fight and aggressiveness what he lacked in weight.

The Galion gridders drew a guard position in the mythical all-Buckeye league team.

The elections, made from ballots cast by coaches, officials and sports writers, include five from the great Ohio university team, three from Cincinnati, and one each from Ohio Wesleyan, Dayton and Miami.

The Bobcats, unbeaten and untied this year, and winner over Illinois by a 6 to 0 count, placed Paul Hallock at end, Art Lewis at tackle, Don Burnison at guard, and J. Cherniak and Bob Snyder in the backfield.

Nine Bobcats Named

On the three teams selected, nine Bobcat regulars won berths. Cincinnati, victor over Indiana, placed eight, Ohio Wesleyan 6, Marshall 4, and Miami and Dayton three each.

Ray Notling, Cincinnati's great back, led the voting and won the captaincy of the honorary eleven. Art Lewis of Ohio U. was only one vote behind the Bearcat.

Feldhaus, giant Cincinnati tackle, was the lone junior able to break into the lineup, while Cherniak of Ohio U. was the only sophomore good enough for the first team.

Vince McDonough, Dayton's 150-pound back who did everything, and did it well during the season, was an almost unanimous choice for a first team job. He and his three backfield mates scored 177 points during the season. Notling topped the list with 60. Snyder scored 51. Cherniak 42 and McDonough 24.

Elected by One Vote

The closest race in the balloting was for the center berth, for which Ray Overturn of Ohio Wesleyan nosed out Holmquist of Ohio U. by a single vote.

An aggregation like any of the first three honorary teams would be a joy to any coach. The first string line averages 185 pounds from end to end. The guards, Burnison and big Harry Duncan of

DON BURNISON

Cincinnati, are fast enough to lead any interference, and scrappy enough to stop any plays loosed at them.

Lewis, at one tackle, is regarded as one of the best in the country. Feldhaus and his 110 pounds proved a stone wall on defense and a hole-maker on offense for the Bearcats.

The ends, Hallock of Ohio U. and Jim Cole of Miami, were two of the best pass-receivers in the state this year, and were demons on defense. Few gains were made around their wings. At center Overturn of Wesleyan was a power on defense, and his passing was far above par.

The records of the backs speak for themselves. Plenty of blocking, running, passing and kicking ability is stored up in the four star-wars in the balloting department. Here are the selections.

First Team

Player	School	Pos.
Hallock	Ohio U.	End
Feldhaus	Cincinnati	Tackle
Burnison	Ohio U.	Guard
Overturn	O. Wesleyan	Center
Cherniak	Cincinnati	Guard
Lewis	Ohio U.	Tackle
McDonough	Dayton	End
Notling	Cincinnati	Back
Snyder	Ohio U.	Back

Second Team

Player	School	Pos.
Cherniak	O. Wesleyan	End
Stefano	Ohio U.	Tackle
Harney	Marshall	Guard
Holmquist	Ohio U.	Center
Miller	O. Wesleyan	Guard
Durton	Dayton	Tackle
Ramey	Cincinnati	End
Gray	Cincinnati	Line
Wahlman	Marshall	Back
Walt	Cincinnati	Back
Mohler	O. Wesleyan	Back

This team's ends—Gibbony of Cincinnati and Province of Marshall; Tackles—Longworth of Wesleyan and Burt of Miami; Guards—Cherniak of Cincinnati and Overturn of Marshall; Center—Nan of Cincinnati; Backs—Tupp of Ohio U. and Petrich of Miami, leader of Cincinnati and Bell of Wesleyan.

ONE—BOWLING Standing

The Smart & Waddell teams led the All Star bowling league last night with a single game score of 990 and the Midland Mutual Life team tallied three-game high with 2,768.

Hogan was king pin toppler with 635 for three games and 259 for a single game.

A representative Marion team journeyed to Delaware Saturday night and won a three-game match by 218 points. Members of the Recreation league will host tonight.

The Widespread Acceptance Of FOREST GLEN MEMORIAL PARK And The Success Of Events Such As SOY BEAN DAYS

Which Appeal To Large Territories Definitely Proves That North Central Ohio Is Just One Community

Greetings

Forest Glen Memorial Park Association wishes to extend to all visitors coming to Marion for Soy Bean Days, December 5, 6 and 7, a very cordial invitation to visit our new modern, up-to-date memorial park, located two and one-half miles north of Marion on U. S. Route No. 28. You can't miss it.

You will say after your visit, as 990 out of every thousand that visited the park last year said, that "It is one of America's finest burial estates."

Some of the outstanding features that you will see in Forest Glen are the beautiful Cathedral Home in which the Superintendent and his family live; the spacious lounge with the new Vox Organo Pipe Organ and other musical equipment, which is used for funerals, weddings and other church affairs. Another unique structure in this modern burial estate is the Chimes Tower, from which emanates music or the speaking or singing voice, amplified throughout the park area.

At Forest Glen the atmosphere is that of the Home, the fireside, and the garden. Exquisite in landscaping, beautiful in architecture, reliable and proper in management, new and modern in its equipment, courteous and generous in its service, non-sectarian, thoroughly democratic, generously and perpetually endowed, a living shrine of perpetual beauty, a holy sanctuary of honor and a necessity in any centralized community.

Our association will be more than pleased to greet you and to wish for you a successful meeting and visit in Marion.

May we assure you that all of the people of Marion are entering into the spirit of entertaining properly all visitors on December 5, 6 and 7.

Come to Marion on at least one of these days and visit Forest Glen Memorial Park and you will be more than repaid in the pleasure you receive.

ROBERT MARSHALL, Manager.

Twenty-five years ago, a man's community was his own neighborhood. Today, the boundaries of daily routine in trade and travel mark a community's limits.

Driving in a wagon or buggy over mud roads, the residents of yesterday's community made their trips to town or the crossroads store, to the district school and to church. Every town, village or rural neighborhood was a community unto itself. Lacking in luxury and comforts these units of community life were complete in a practical sense even to the small cemeteries usually located adjacent to the church. The interests and activities of nearby communities or villages might be known, but were lacking in appeal simply because participation in affairs not entirely local was impossible.

Automobiles, good roads and a broadening view have changed things for us all in the last quarter century. The district school is a centralized affair with specialized teaching and courses. The crossroads store is still at the same location but its service has vastly changed. Instead of providing all for family wardrobe and larder, its principal field today is supplementary service to major purchases made at the communities' trading center. Influences of wider daily travel and increased intermingling of neighborhoods have fostered an increasing appreciation of the comforts of life. Rural electrification, home beautification and landscaping are evidences of this fact.

The changes in living and living standards have provided the foundation for ideals which have inspired building of beautiful memorial parks such as Forest Glen. The old-style, neighborhood cemetery, usually unkempt and improperly financed, passed on with the district school. It was built to serve a neighborhood. The memorial park is planned to serve countless neighborhoods and great communities. The immense area that is within a few minutes' driving distance of Forest Glen Memorial Park has a population of more than 125,000 persons and includes more than 50 of the old-style cemeteries. Each of these was built to serve a single neighborhood. Forest Glen, consistent with the modern trend, was built to serve the entire North Central Ohio community. It has adequate burial space to meet the needs of the community for the next 100 years. Its beauty and facilities are assured for all time by a soundly planned and established endowment fund. The cost of burial space at Forest Glen is low. Levels were established commensurate with the modern philosophy of mass production. Use of the beautiful cathedral home, pipe organ, chimes and park broadcasting system, chapel tent, and grave lowering device are all provided to the lot owner without extra cost. Identification of graves is provided by surface level bronze plates. The beauties of Forest Glen achieved by landscaping and floral culture is not to be marred by stone memorials or markers.

Forest Glen has been given a wonderful acceptance by the North Central Ohio community. Hardly a single neighborhood within this large area that has not been represented in one or more of many activities at the park. Groups from almost every section have appeared at the popular Sunday afternoon program and on holidays. The list of lot owners include names from every corner of this large territory. These persons have decided on Forest Glen as their preference for their final resting place because it stands as a perfect emblem to them, an emblem of their own community which they had had to use and enjoy.

The influence that has been given by Forest Glen to the community is not only a beautiful memorial to the past but a living example of the future. It is a place where the community can find a place of rest and a place of hope. It is a place where the community can find a place of peace and a place of love. It is a place where the community can find a place of life and a place of death.

Originating in Southeastern Asia, Soy Bean Has Spread To Numerous Lands; New Values Discovered

The soy bean, according to a bulletin of the United States agriculture, is a native of southeastern Asia. It is known variously in different localities as the soft bean, soya bean and, in North Carolina, the stock pea.

The wild form of the plant, a slender, twining vine with small pods and very small, dull black seeds, is known to occur in China, Manchuria and Korea. The culture and use of the soy bean are recorded in ancient Chinese literature and undoubtedly date from a period long before the time of written documents. The soy bean has been a crop of prime importance in China and Japan since ancient times and in extent of use is the most valuable legume grown in those countries.

Previous to 1908 the trade in soy beans was largely confined to oriental countries, particularly China, Manchuria and Japan. Since that time the value of the soy bean and its products has gradually been realized in other countries, and during the last score of years they have attained considerable importance in the world's commerce.

In Numerous Lands
Soy beans are cultivated in China, Manchuria, Japan, Korea and the United States, but are also of more or less importance in northern India, Indo China and the Malay Islands. Soy beans are grown also in Italy, France, southern Russia, Hungary, Hawaii, Egypt, South Africa and in a few countries of South America, but the acreage in these countries is very limited.

The soy bean was introduced into the United States as early as 1804 and for several decades was regarded more as a botanical curiosity than a plant of economic importance. Since 1880 nearly all of the state agricultural experiment stations have experimented with soy beans, and many bulletins have been published dealing wholly or partly with the crop.

Varieties Increase
Previous to the numerous introductions by the United States Department of agriculture beginning in 1898 there were not more than eight varieties of soy beans grown in the United States. With the introduction from Asiatic countries of varieties suited to the wide range of soil and climatic conditions in the United States, the soy bean has assumed great importance in recent years and offers far-reaching possibilities to the future agriculture of this country.

The soy bean has been used mainly for forage purposes in the United States, but as a forage crop alone it would not likely become one of the major field crops. The acreage in soy beans has increased very rapidly in the last 20 years. Although the increase in acreage has been general over the eastern part of the country, the most marked increases have occurred in the corn belt and adjoining states and a few of the southern states. The acreage undoubtedly will continue to increase with improved methods and machinery for handling the crop and with greater utilization of the soy bean and its byproducts for industrial purposes.

Elements Of Value
The large yield of seed, the excellent quality of forage, the ease of growing and harvesting the crop, its freedom from insect enemies and plant diseases and the possibilities of the seed for the production of oil and oil meal and as human food, and the many ways in which the soy bean may be used all tend to give the crop a high potential value.

The climatic adaptations of the soy bean are about the same as for corn. It is especially well adapted to the northern half of the cotton belt and in the southern part of the corn belt where the larger and later varieties, which give yields that make their extensive cultivation profitable, can be grown. In the northern states, however, early varieties introduced from northern Manchuria mature fair yields of seed and later varieties can be grown successfully for hay, pasture or silage.

After the soy bean is well started it withstands short periods of drought and a wet season neither seriously retards growth nor decreases the yield. The soy bean plant seems to adapt itself not only to soils but to seasons as well. The period of germination is the most critical stage, when excess moisture or prolonged drought are likely to be injurious. The soy bean is less susceptible to frost than are cowpeas, field beans or corn. Light frosts having but little effect on the plants when young or when nearly mature.

BACK TO CARDS

Playing cards and even children's games are being used in gambling joints and private homes in Scotland's new crass for indoor betting, which has replaced the former unlimited greyhound racing in the country. Thousands of dollars change hands nightly. This is one of the latest repercussions of the enforcement of the new betting act regulations. In many districts in the industrial belt dog fans, deprived of some of their evening "thrillers," have become card crazy. Parties, invariably made up of specially selected players, have been formed, and every conceivable type of card game is carried through. Apart from the outdoor gambling better class dog patrons now gamble in private houses

"ABYSSINIAN ARMY"

General J. R. Royston, a veteran of four campaigns, has announced in Durban, South Africa, that he intends offering his services to the emperor of Abyssinia to raise a brigade for service in the war with Italy. General Royston, who is 73, stated that he had received streams of messages and offers from volunteers from all part of the union. "There are daily telephone calls, telegrams and letters coming from all parts of Natal and from Johannesburg," he said. "One telegram from Johannesburg offers 1,000 ex-service men willing to join, and also trained nurses. I am still awaiting a reply from the Abyssinian government with regard to local conditions of service and pay."

GIRL ASLEEP FOR YEAR

Her continued coma, which is baffling physicians, is believed to be the result of shock received after seeing her mother killed by her father in a family quarrel.

Soy Bean Products Have Amazing Variety of Uses

Definite evidence that the soy bean crop is coming into the spotlight in the nation's industrial and commercial circles is contained in recent news reports from two large cities.

Soy beans have assumed a "big league" trading volume on the Chicago board of trade, rising from one security among farm crops in a period of 25 years. The Associated Press reported in a recent news dispatch from Chicago. In recent months, soy bean transactions on the Chicago board outstripped in volume those of barley, rye and oats. Soy beans were described as an important factor in the export business of farmers, who turned to beans in an attempt to balk insect ravages.

Another news report from Detroit told of Henry Ford's $5,000,000 soy bean mill at his River Rouge plant where the beans will be made into a variety of products used in the manufacture of automobiles. The plant, newly completed, is the world's largest industrial plant devoted to manufacture of products for this purpose from farm crops.

The plant is equipped to turn out automobile parts that include horn buttons, gear shift lever balls, light switch handles, distributor bases, distributor covers, window trim strips, dashboard panels, oil for paints, soft soaps, meal used as flouring agent.

Soy bean products from this plant are expected to replace the use of metal, hard rubber and linseed oil in various Ford processes and cut imports to this country to some extent.

Other products made from soy have possibilities as wall paneling, flooring and light furniture, and need only the development of inexpensive methods of manufacture to release them to these fields.

The long list of commercial products for which soy beans are used can be divided into two classes, one in which oil extracted from the beans is used and the other in which the soy bean oil meal that remains after oil has been extracted is used.

Among the products in which soy bean oil is used are candles, celluloid, core oil, disinfectant, enamels, food products, fuel, glycerin, insecticides, candies, chocolate, cocoa, emulsifier, margarine, medicines, textile dyes, linoleum, lubricant oil, cloth paints, printing ink, rubber substitutes, soaps, varnishes, cement waterproofing compounds and water-proof goods.

Among products in which soy bean oil meal is used are core binder, fertilizer, glue, human food (flour, breads, cakes, candies, chocolate, diabetic foods, health drinks, ice cream cones, ice cream powder, meat products, seasoning powders, soy sauce and vegetable oils, plastics, water paints and feeds for cattle, dogs, fish, hogs, poultry, swine and sheep.

Kwant had been away in the Clan Macdonald, Gdynia, a Polish port, after being arrested for spreading Nazi propaganda shortly before Lt. De Witt's death. He has no immigration papers and the prospect of looking after Kwant indefinitely does not appeal to the captain of the ship, who is responsible for the vessel's safe arrival at an Austrian port. But the Clan Macdonald never touches at any Austrian port.

ARM INCOME EXPECTED TO CONTINUE INCREASING

Figure Set at $260,000,000 Compared to $203,000,000 in 1934; 5 Per Cent Gain Seen in 1936.

The agricultural outlook in Ohio for 1936 is considerably brighter than that of a year ago for 1935, the farm bureau said. "The demand for the farm production of the United States in 1936 is likely to be greater than was the demand for the production of the 1935 season. Such increased demand as reflected by consumer buying power would result in prices for the present volume of agricultural production higher than at the present season."

The farm bureau added that an increase in farm production would tend to check the advance in prices.

V. R. Wertz of the university rural economics department made the estimate of Ohio farm income after returning from a conference of the federal bureau of agricultural economics in Washington.

"If conditions are the same next year," he said, "and production is not increased, the farm income should rise about 5 per cent."

Farmers Can Aid Sales

The farm bureau asserted the farmers largely have it within their power to determine whether the prices they receive are profitable.

"Probably the only dark cloud on the horizon at this time," it said, "is the possibility that troublesome surpluses in certain farm products might force market prices down to an unprofitable level. This is most likely in dairy industry which is somewhat overdone in Ohio and other states. No control methods have been in force to stabilize production as has been done with other basic crops under the agricultural adjustment act, such as wheat, tobacco, corn and hogs. These crops will likely find a good market at parity prices by Ohio farmers in 1936."

The bureau said "no little blame for unprofitable market prices next season and in the future might well be placed in the hands of farmers themselves, because they have the power with which to develop a larger buying power for themselves and likewise for city consumers through self help and cooperative methods through which a known demand could be brought about and all waste eliminated."

Might Wreck Market

Unless some growers' control is put into effect a large potato crop in 1936 might demoralize potato prices, the bureau said.

Here is how Wertz and two colleagues at the university, G. W. Miller and L. H. Barnes, sized up the 1936 outlook for Ohio and the rest of the country:

Farm credit—The supply of available funds is relatively large in comparison with the farmers' needs. Interest rates have been reduced.

Farm family living—Their volume of purchase is up since 1932 and is expected to rise more. Much money has been spent on replacements.

Hogs—The seasonal rise in late winter and spring prices expected to be smaller than last year's rise and may not occur at all. Summer supplies are expected to be much larger and prices are not expected to reach the peak levels of last summer.

Beef cattle—Seasonal rise in price of low grade cattle expected in late winter and spring. It will average as high or higher than a year ago.

Horse supply lowest

Horses—The supply now is the smallest since that year.

Sheep and wool—Higher expected for sheep. Wool textile demand expected to remain fairly steady. There may be a small increase.

Dairy production—Dairy cattle are about stationary. Milk production due to rise in 1936. Storage is not burdensome and consumption of whole milk is increasing.

Poultry—Outlook good until next fall.

Wheat—With normal yields, production in the United States probably would result in a surplus and reduce prices to an export basis. It is expected by July 1 the burdensome supply of wheat will have disappeared and there will be a normal carryover of 100,000,000 bushels. Increase in production expected in 1936 and 1937.

Potatoes—Supplies and prices probably will be more effective than legislation in determining next year's acreage.

Tobacco—Surpluses are declining and prices rising. Exports are low.

CAVE OF MUMMIES FOUND

In the limestone caves of the coastal mountains of New Guinea rows of mummies of men, their chins on their hands, their elbows on their knees, have just been discovered. They are believed to be 1,000 years old. The caves are near the strip of coast administered by the Australian government. Almost at the time of the discovery a party of explorers stumbled on a valley populated by a hitherto unknown pastoral people who had dwelt there when the mummies were living men. Until the mummies were found there was no evidence that New Guinea tribes preserved their dead.

Value of Soy Bean Crop Multiplied by Processing

Through processing in the plant of Old Fort Mills, Inc., a crop that has a comparatively limited use as it stands in the field will be broken into two major products that have one of the largest ranges of usefulness in commercial fields of any farm crop.

Soy beans, officials of the company say, were first grown in this country as a forage or hay crop, but the feeding of soy beans to livestock and poultry has been in many respects unsatisfactory because of attempts to feed the whole bean or ground beans in the raw state.

However, when the whole beans are processed, splitting them into approximately 85 per cent soy bean oil meal and 15 per cent

beans are fed to dogs, the pork produced will be soft and discriminated against by packers, Mr. Holland said.

For this reason, he continued, farmers should feed soy bean oil meal which is made from soy beans with the oil extracted. The meal will be sold through feed dealers throughout the state and in the Marion area will be available at the plant.

Balanced Ration

Soy bean oil meal, when properly mineralized, supplements other farm grains and produces a balanced ration, Mr. Holland said. This enables the farmers to utilize their own grains to the best advantage. For example, he continued, in the feeding of corn alone, 12 to 14 bushels are required to produce 100 pounds of pork. When corn is supplemented with soy bean oil meal to which minerals have been added, it is possible to produce 100 pounds of pork with approximately five to seven bushels of corn.

The fact that soy bean oil meal, as produced in the plant of Old Fort Mills, is toasted or virtually cooked, adds to the palatability of the meal and makes digestion of it easier for the many different kinds of stock to which it has been fed successfully and economically, Mr. Holland said.

SOY BEANS GAIN FAVOR AS NEW SOURCE OF FOOD

Prediction Is Made That Ohioans Will Hear More of Product in Few Years.

Ohioans and residents of the entire nation will hear much in the next few years about the use of soy beans as a food for human consumption.

Although soy beans in this country have been confined largely to use as a food for stock and poultry and for use in various commercial fields, the bean is a human food product in many countries, officials of Old Fort Mills, Inc., said today as they prepared for formal opening of their soy bean processing plant in a three-day program to begin tomorrow.

European countries probably are two generations ahead of the United States in the use of soy beans in various forms as a part of the human diet, company officials said.

Tests in England were made with a group of 70 men performing common labor. Their work and physical conditions were checked for a specified period in which they were given their regular variety of food and compared with the work they performed in a corresponding period while they were fed only bread that was 70 per cent soy bean flour. Their health and vitality were equally good in both periods, the tests showed.

Other evidences of the nutritive value of soy beans were pointed out by officials of the plant. They told how in Manchuria soy beans served almost as a substitute for meat, keeping the people sturdy and in good health although there is little meat in their menu.

Harvard university tests have shown that milk made from soy beans cured 70 per cent of malnutrition cases among a large group of infants.

The plant at Marion will produce only soy bean oil and meal. However, the meal can be and is being made into flour in a number of mills. This flour is expected to find its way into a wide variety of human foods. It already is being used in European countries in the making of bread, cake, spaghetti, molasses, drinks and candy.

The other food products in which soy bean oil is used are butter substitutes, cooking oils, lard substitutes, salad oils, chocolate, corns and margarine. Some of the products made from the meal that remains when the oil has been extracted are flour, chocolate, diabetic foods, health drinks, ice cream cones, ice cream powders, soy sauce, vegetable milk. It also is used in beer brewing.

Soy beans are the oldest crop of which there is a written record, yet there is much misinformation and lack of knowledge about their culture in Ohio, officials of Old Fort Mills said today.

Since a variety of soil conditions are encountered in Marion and vicinity, an set of instructions can be prepared to cover every phase of their culture and the company officials are referring farmers wishing to obtain information about the crop to the office of E. L. Anderson, county farm agent.

The misinformation and lack of knowledge of the crop in Ohio, according to G. A. Holland, vice president of Old Fort Mills, is a result of the fact that soy beans have not been an important crop in the agricultural program of the state.

Ohio must increase its production of soy beans 200 to 400 per cent before it will reach the present level of Illinois.

Comparative Figures

Government statistics show that 650,000 acres of soy beans were planted in Ohio this year as compared with 2,000,000 acres in Illinois. This disparity in production between the two states, however, is greater than the acreage figures indicate. This is because of lack of information in Ohio about the culture of beans to produce the best possible yields, Mr. Holland said.

In Ohio there are many farms where the yield has been less than 15 bushels of soy beans an acre, due to improper preparation of the seed bed, improper planting and failure to inoculate the soil where seeds are planted for the first time. It is not unusual, Mr. Holland asserted, to find yields of 20 to 40 bushels an acre where beans have been planted properly, the soil inoculated and the harvesting done with a combine. He added that use of a combine results in fewer split beans and less foreign matter in the harvested beans.

Mr. Holland said he used the production figures for Illinois for comparison with Ohio because in Illinois soy beans have become one of the principal crops of the state, being planted there as generally as corn is in Ohio with virtually every farmer planting a crop. He predicted Ohio farmers will increase their production rapidly to meet the growing demand for soy beans in various commercial fields.

A cash market for their soy bean crops and methods that will increase the production per acre will encourage the expansion of this crop, he said.

Planting Methods Differ

Seeds should be planted at different depths in different types of soil. Mr. Anderson, the extension farm agent for this county, is in position to counsel with farmers regarding the type of planting best suited to their soils, Mr. Holland said.

Although soy beans will grow in almost any type of soil, a sandy loam is best. Strangely, they grow better than corn in soil that is low in fertility, provided it has been inoculated, Mr. Holland said.

Inoculation of the soil means that certain bacteria must be present in the soil to promote growth of the beans. Soil in which beans have once been grown contains a certain degree of inoculation. Inoculation may be purchased in commercial form or soil can be taken from a field where there has been a good yield, moistened and mixed with the seed beans to provide inoculation, he explained.

BOOTLEGGERS SEEN ON WANE

Alcohol Tax Unit Aims Its Guns at Big Shots in Illicit Liquor Business.

(Editor's note: Uncle Sam is waging a determined fight to wipe out the bootlegger—and in making progress. In a series of three articles, the first of which follows, International News Service discusses in detail the operations, the personnel and the aims of the government agency combating illicit liquor in the important eighth district, comprising Ohio and Michigan.)

BY JOSEPH K. RUKENBROD
International News Writer
CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 2.—There is no doubt that there is less bootlegging today than there was before repeal.

"Altogether we are making continuous progress in reducing bootlegging to a minimum."

"The amount of illicit liquor business is problematical."

"We are directing our guns at the so-called 'big shot,' and we are getting the range on him—hitting him harder and oftener."

This, in brief, is the manner in which the liquor situation in this territory is summed up by Fred W. Belts, supervisor of district No. 8 of the alcohol tax unit, in charge of Michigan and Ohio.

Progress Gratifying
Belts, who has been in charge of this district since last June, with headquarters in Cleveland, declared that much progress is being shown in his department, and that the efficiency of the work has been "gratifying."

In illustration, he pointed to the recent seizure of an illegal distillery near Zanesville, O., which was the "largest illicit still ever in operation in the United States."

"Such a job, however, takes a lot of patience, and the investigation of many angles," the supervisor explained. "In the first place, we find that a retailer, say in Cleveland, is selling illicit liquor."

"We may make no immediate arrests there, but investigate further, and find that the retailer is getting the stuff from another source in the city. That man, we find, is receiving it from a transporter."

Finally, the investigation ends up at the still, where the "big shot" is controlling the business. He's the man we're after.

Still Well Hidden
"In the Zanesville case, though, we didn't know even at the time we entered the building where the still finally was located that the still was actually there—so expertly was it concealed and camouflaged. This still was in a large grain mill, and was turning out thousands of gallons of illegal liquor—the largest illicit still ever in operation in this country."

The personnel of the department, it was explained, is made up of clean-cut young men, most of them college graduates, a number of them members of the bar. Following their appointment they are on probation for one year, and the supervisor may dismiss them for inefficiency or other just cause.

After the probation period, dismissal charges are handled through the civil service commission.

"Our men usually are of a high type," the official said.

"If they can not reach the high standard expected of them, they are dropped."

In Two Divisions
The district is divided into two divisions, the enforcement and permissive divisions, with W. K. Bruner, assistant supervisor in charge of enforcement, and Fred W. West, assistant supervisor in charge of the permissive division.

In the enforcement division, there are three investigators in charge. Eliot Ness for northern Ohio, Col. G. E. Whitney for southern Ohio and Robert S. Krause for Michigan. Supervisor West is assisted by F. H. Simonton, chief inspector.

(In the next article—Methods of controlling the liquor industry are discussed.)

FISH SUFFER FROM HEAT
Following the extreme heat in Paris thousands of fish appeared on the surface of the Seine, and people caught them by the handful. Half-suffocated by the lack of oxygen in the water the stony swimmers came up for "breath." Fearing the river's stock of fish might be depleted the police forbade fishing by hand.

MOORES AND ROSS

In these times of stress, strain and your eagerness to keep abreast with fast moving current events did you ever pause long enough to consider the value of telephone service in your home, especially at night when possibly the services of a physician, the Fire or Police departments, or your relatives and friends are urgently needed in an emergency.

The cost for service is very low.

NEW CASH FOR OLD OHIO

Having been born and reared on a farm I believe I know the farmers problems. Old Fort Mills stands prepared to answer two of these problems by providing a market for one more cash crop and supplying a high protein supplement to feed with home grains. For fifteen years I called on elevators and feed dealers and operated feed retail stores, therefore I feel I know the problems of the retail dealer and how to work with him. Retail dealers and farmers can prosper only when trading is profitable to all concerned.

P. TURNER
President

In the 15 years I have been in the feed business I have learned what many a merchant has before me, that success depends upon supplying honest merchandise at an honest price. This is a basic policy in our business.

$400,000.00 Will Be Paid To The Soy Bean Growers In Marion And Adjoining Counties

HERE IS ONE FOR MR. RIPLEY'S "BELIEVE IT OR NOT" COLUMN

The soy bean grower can double his income on beans by feeding the meal after the oil is taken out.

Results With Soy Bean Oil Meal

It takes 12 bushels of Corn to produce 100 pounds of pork. You can produce the same 100 pounds of pork with 6 bushels of corn and 60 pounds of Soy Bean Oil Meal with minerals. That's doubling your grain income.

Soy Bean Oil Meal can be used to replace Cottonseed Meal and Linseed Oil Meal pound for pound, in feeding your dairy cows. Soy Bean Oil Meal will increase milk flow and save grain and roughage. It costs less than either Cottonseed Meal or Linseed Oil Meal.

Soy Bean Oil Meal should also be fed to poultry, sheep, fattening lambs, mares in foal, colts and beef cattle.

Grow Your Own Concentrate

Ohio grows all of its own grain, and now with a processing plant in Marion you can grow your own concentrate Soy Bean Oil Meal.

Feeding Whole Soy Beans Dangerous

The feeding of whole Soy Beans or ground Soy Beans with oil intact will produce inferior results. Packers will not buy hogs fed on whole Soy Beans, it produces soft pork, fed to dairy cows it produces soft butter fat.

Here is what University of Illinois has to say about feeding whole beans: In a ration for fattening hogs soy bean oil meal when supplemented with single mineral mixture consisting of equal parts by weight of ground limestone steamed bone meal and common salt has proved of value as a nitrogenous concentrate replacing tankage.

Recent investigations have shown that the feeding of whole or ground bean in amounts sufficient to balance the corn will result in soft pork.
(Illinois University Bulletin 20)

Next Year

Next year Old Fort Mills will process one million bushels of Soy Beans. The Old Fort Mills wants to buy these beans in Ohio and especially in Marion and adjoining counties. We ask the cooperation of Soy Bean growers by growing yellow beans and varieties that are best suited for milling. See your County Agent.

OPEN HOUSE

Come in Dec. 6-7-8 and see how we extract the oil from Soy Beans and toast the Soy Bean Oil Meal straight out E. Center street to Grand avenue, north to Erie tracks.
